AN EPHEMERIS FOR THE YEAR 1885.

ADAPTED TO THE MERIDIAN OF TREVANDRUM.

TREVANDRUM OBSERVATORY.

Longitude.....	5h. 7 m. 59s.=	76° 59' 45" East.
Latitude		8° 30' 32" North.
Deviation of the Compass	...	0° 42' 19" East.
Dip	approximately	2° 30' South.
Height above the sea	...	197 feet.
Mean temperature of the air in the shade ...	...	77° 81 Fah.
Mean temperature of evaporation in the shade	...	73° 42 Fah.
Mean atmospheric pressure	...	29.681 inches.
Mean vapour pressure... ..	...	0.778 inches.
Mean relative humidity ... (Saturation=1)	...	0.812
Mean direction of the wind	...	W. N. W.
Mean yearly fall of rain	...	64.71 inches.*
Mean yearly evaporation	...	88.54 inches.

Note—

* This result is obtained from 43 years' observations (1838—80). The mean yearly fall of rain from 27 years' observations (1838—64) was 68.36 inches, shewing a decrease of 3.65 inches, in the whole period of 43 years. The 16 years' observations from 1865—80, give however only an average yearly fall of 61.52 inches, exhibiting a still clearer decrease in the quantity of rain. The average number of rainy days has remained yet pretty equal; 137.8 for the 27 years from 1838, 137.5 for the 16 years from 1865 and 138.0 for the whole period of 43 years (1838—80). But as the observations extend only over a short period, and are confined to but one place, it would be premature to predict any continual decrease.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

The Golden Number is that which any given year holds in the Lunar Cycle, which is a period of 19 years, at the lapse of which the phases of the Moon take place on the same days of the months respectively as at the commencement of the Cycle.

The Epoch is the number of days of the Lunar Cycle, over and above all the complete courses of the Moon for any number of years, hence the number indicates the age of the moon at the beginning of the year.

The Solar Cycle is a period of 28 years, which owing to leap year, must necessarily elapse before the days of the month can return respectively to the same days of the week as at the commencement of the Cycle. The first year of the Christian Era was the tenth year of this Cycle.

The Dominical letter is that letter of the Alphabet which points out in the calendar the Sundays throughout the year, thence also called Sunday letter. The seven days of the week, reckoned as beginning on the 1st of January, are designated by the first seven letters of the Alphabet. Thus if the year begins on Sunday A is the Dominical letter and so on generally. If there were 364 days, or exactly 52 weeks in the year, the Dominical letter will always be same; but the year contains 365½ days; an excess of 1½ day over the 52 weeks. The day is taken into the account every year, and the ½ makes a day in every four years; so that the Dominical letter falls backward one letter for each of the three years, in which, the date or number of the year cannot be divided, without remainder, by 4, and two letters every fourth year, when the date can be so divided, as in the year 1880, it is divisible by 4 and therefore, February contained 29 days. The year began on Thursday, count forward Thursday to Sunday, inclusive, is 4 days, and the fourth letter from A inclusive is D. Therefore, at first D is the Dominical letter; but the 29th of February which is added, throws the first day of March a day later in the week than it would otherwise have been; therefore the Sunday letter for March and all the remaining months is C. Hence the years which have the 29 days in February and the two Dominical letters are called bisextiles.

Roman Indiction is a period of 15 years, instituted in A. D. 312, by which the Popes have dated their acts by the year of the indiction which was fixed on the first of January.

The Julian period embraces 7980 years and is used, as a fixed era for dating astronomical calculations. The first year of the Christian era is 4713 of Julian period.

Time is distinguished into three kinds: Apparent or True time Mean time and Sidereal time; each of which is expressed in days, hours, minutes and seconds. An Apparent or True day is the interval of time comprehended between two consecutive passages of the Sun over the meridian; a Mean day is the time comprehended between two consecutive passages of an imaginary Sun called the mean Sun, and is equal to the mean or average of all the apparent solar days in the year; lastly, the time comprehended between two following passages of the same star over the same meridian is a Sidereal day.

A day is either astronomical or civil; the astronomical day commences at ~~apparent~~ noon or at mean noon, according as apparent or mean time is employed; it is divided into 24 hours, reckoned without interruption from 1 to 24, or from noon to noon. The civil day commences at the midnight preceding the commencement of the astronomical day, and likewise consists of 24 hours; but these are separated into two periods of 12 hours each, those situated between midnight and noon being called morning hours (written A.M.) and those between noon and midnight afternoon hours (written P.M.). The sidereal day commences at the instant of the passage over the meridian of the Vernal Equinox, or first point of Aries. It is divided into 24 sidereal hours counted from 0 to 24.

In this Almanac is used the mean astronomical time for the rising, setting &c. of the moon and planets, and the civil time for the rest. To each month of the Almanac there are devoted two pages. In the first page of each month, the first column contains the day of the week, the second the day of the month and the third the corresponding Malabar date.

The sun's rising and setting given in the 4th and 5th columns, though affording a less accurate means of regulating clocks and watches, than direct observations of the sun's altitude, may yet be useful for common purposes. The times are given to the nearest minute, of the sun's centre being in the horizon, and they include the equation of time and the effect of refraction.

The moon's age (Thithi) at Mean Noon, given in the 6th column is the mean time elapsed since the moon's conjunction with the sun, or since the sun and moon had the same longitude. The numbers in this column represent her age at Trevandrum and are expressed in days, and decimal parts of a day.

The columns 7, 8 and 9 contain the moon's rising, meridian passage and setting.

The mean time of the moon's rising and setting is given to the nearest minute; this will be found useful to persons travelling and in many other ways.

The moon's meridian passage indicates the time, at which the moon's centre is on the upper meridian of Trevandrum, and is useful in finding the time of high water. When a line is drawn across the column of "Meridian Passage," we are to understand that the moon does not pass the upper meridian on that day at Trevandrum. This is the case one day in each Lunation, and arises from the circumstances of the Lunar day being greater than the Mean solar day, and including it within its limits. For the same reason there are some days on which the moon does not rise, and others on which it does not set.

In the second page of each month, are given first the phases of the moon, and second the rising, meridian passage, setting and declination of the 6 principal planets. The phases of the moon.—The numbers denote the mean time, at which the difference of Longitude between the sun and the moon is 0° , 90° , 180° or 270° , being

0° at the New Moon
 90° at the First Quarter
 180° at the Full Moon
 270° at the Last Quarter.

The moon's Apogee and Perigee.—The numbers here given indicate, to the nearest hour, at which the moon is respectively at her greatest and least distance from the earth.

The Planets' rising, setting and meridian passage.—As in the instance of the moon before mentioned, the times noted, indicate the positions of these planets given for every 10th day, and for any time intermediate, they may be found by interpolation.

The declination indicates their relative position with reference to the Equator, north or south.

M. U. Maharaja of Travancore, issued under date the 21st May 1883 corresponding with the 9th Edavom 1058.

WHEREAS by a Proclamation dated the 8th Cambhum 1033 No. 3,039, the subjects of this State were prohibited under penalties, from felling Palmyra, Jack and other assessed trees without the permission of Our Government, and whereas it is represented to Us that owing to the operation of this rule, Our subjects find it very inconvenient to obtain timber for building and other uses, and have to submit to much annoyance and petty oppression from the lower officials through whom the necessary enquiries are made, We are hereby pleased to repeal the Proclamation of 1033 above cited, and to declare that no previous permission from Our Government need be sought hereafter for felling and using or for otherwise disposing of any tree which is the private property of the person wishing to so fell or dispose of the same, as We are persuaded that no person will fell a productive or otherwise useful tree, and that even useless trees cut down are replaced by the owner by new trees planted in his own interest.

M. U. Maharaja of Travancore, issued under date the 26th May 1883 corresponding with the 14th Edavom 1058.

WHEREAS We consider it desirable to introduce a Revenue Survey and Assessment in Travancore as the basis of a sound administration of the land revenue, and whereas We have commanded Our Dewan to carry out this important measure with due regard to the interests of all concerned, We are pleased to notify as follows:—

All proprietors and occupants of land should produce before Our officers appointed for conducting the settlement operations all documents, accounts and muniments of title which may be in their possession to show their right to the properties owned or occupied by them, to admit of their titles and the tenures on which they hold the properties being properly investigated and recorded.

All proprietors and occupants should likewise clear and mark at their own expense, and accurately point out when called upon to do so, the boundaries of their holdings and be present in the field with the settlement officers to afford them every help and information necessary to facilitate their work.

The stones required to mark the boundaries of all private properties shall be supplied and fixed by the proprietors or occupants of those properties—failing which the required boundary stones will be supplied from Government depots and fixed by the Settlement Department, all expenses incident thereto being recovered as arrears of revenue from the defaulting proprietors or occupants.

All Our Revenue officers and servants from the Dewan Peishcars down to the Proverctars will afford Our Survey and Settlement officers every assistance and facility needed by them in the performance of their duties.

Subject to the provisions of the first clause of this section, an instrument so framed as to come within two or more of the descriptions in the schedule, shall, where the duties chargeable thereunder are different, be chargeable only with the highest of such duties; but nothing herein contained shall render chargeable with duty exceeding one rupee a counterpart or duplicate of any instrument chargeable with duty and in respect of which the proper duty has been paid.

7. Our Dewan may, with Our sanction previously obtained, and by an order published in Our Government Gazette,

(a) reduce or remit, whether prospectively, or retrospectively, in the whole or any part of Travancore, the duties with which any instruments or any particular class of instruments, or any of the instruments belonging to such class, or any instruments when executed by or in favor of any particular class of persons, or by or in favor of any members of such class, are chargeable, and

8. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Regulation, all duties with which any instruments are chargeable shall be paid, and such payment shall be indicated on such instruments, by means of stamps—

(b) when no such provision is applicable thereto—as Our Dewan, with Our previous sanction, may by rule direct.

The rules made under this Section may, among other matters, regulate—

(1) in the case of each kind of instrument—the description of stamps which may be used,

(2) in the case of instruments stamped with impressed stamps—the number of stamps which may be used,

(3) in the case of hundis—the size of the paper on which they are written.

9. The following instruments may be stamped with adhesive stamps, namely:—

and whoever executes any instrument on any paper bearing an adhesive stamp shall, at the time of execution, unless such stamp has been already cancelled in manner aforesaid, cancel the same so that it cannot be used again.

Any instrument bearing an adhesive stamp which has not been cancelled so that it cannot be used again shall, so far as such stamp is concerned, be deemed to be unstamped.

11. Every instrument written upon paper stamped with an impressed stamp, shall be written in such manner, that the stamp may appear on the face of the instrument and cannot be used for or applied to any other instrument.

12. No second instrument chargeable with duty shall be written upon a piece of stamped paper upon which an instrument chargeable with duty has already been written: provided that nothing in this section shall prevent any endorsement which is duly stamped or is not chargeable with duty being made upon any instrument for the purpose of transferring any right created or evidenced thereby, or of acknowledging the receipt of any money or goods the payment or delivery of which is secured thereby.

13. Every instrument written in contravention of section eleven or twelve shall be deemed to be unstamped.

Instrument written contrary to section 11 or 12 deemed unstamped.

14. Where the duty with which an instrument is chargeable, or its exemption from duty, depends in any manner upon the duty actually paid in respect of another instrument, the payment of such last-mentioned duty shall, if application be made in writing to the Division Feishcar or Registering Officer for that purpose, and on production of both the instruments, be denoted upon such first mentioned instrument in such manner as the Dewan with Our sanction may by rule prescribe.

C.—Of the time of stamping Instruments.

15. All instruments chargeable with duty and executed by any person in Travancore shall be stamped before or at the time of execution.

The first holder in Travancore of any bill of exchange, cheque or promissory note drawn or made out of Travancore shall, before he presents the same for acceptance or payment, or endorses, transfers or otherwise negotiates the same in Travancore, affix thereto the proper stamp and cancel the same :

Provided that if, at the time any such bill, cheque or note comes into the hands of any holder thereof in Travancore, the proper adhesive stamp is affixed thereto and cancelled in manner prescribed by section ten and such holder has no reason to believe that such stamp was affixed or cancelled otherwise than by the person and at the time required by this Regulation, such stamp shall, so far as relates to such holder, be deemed to have been duly affixed and cancelled. But nothing contained in this proviso shall relieve any person from any penalty incurred by him for omitting to affix or cancel a stamp.

D.—Of Valuations for duty.

18. Where an instrument is chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of an amount expressed in pounds sterling, pounds currency or British rupees, such duty shall be calculated on the value of such money in the currency of Travancore according to the following scale :—

22. Where interest is expressly made payable by the terms of an instrument, such instrument shall not be chargeable with duty higher than that with which it would have been chargeable had no mention of interest been made therein.

23. Where any property is transferred to any person in consideration, wholly or in part, of any debt due to him, or subject either certainly or contingently to the payment or transfer of any money or stock, whether being or constituting a charge or incumbrance upon the property or not, such debt, money or stock is to be deemed the whole or part, as the case may be, of the consideration in respect whereof the transfer is chargeable with ad valorem duty.

24. Where an instrument is executed to secure the payment of an annuity or other sum payable periodically, or where the consideration for a conveyance is an annuity or other sum payable periodically, the amount secured by such instrument, or the consideration for such conveyance (as the case may be,) shall, for the purposes of this Regulation, be deemed to be—

(a) where the sum is payable for a definite period so that the total amount to be paid can be previously ascertained—such total amount ;

(c) where the sum is payable for an indefinite time terminable with any life in being at the date of such instrument or conveyance—the total amount which will or may be payable as aforesaid during the period of twelve years next after the date of such instrument or conveyance.

25. Where the amount or value of the subject-matter of any instrument chargeable with ad valorem duty cannot be ascertained, at the date of its execution or first execution, nothing shall be claimable under such instrument more than the highest amount or value for which, if stated in an instrument of the same description, the stamp actually used would, at the date of such execution, have been sufficient.

and may for that purpose require to be furnished with such affidavit or other evidence as he may deem necessary to prove that all the facts and circumstances affecting the chargeability of the instrument with duty, or the amount of the duty with which it is chargeable, are fully and truly set forth therein, and may refuse to proceed upon any such application until such evidence have been furnished accordingly;

N.B. All stones are firmly embedded in the ground of their length.

35. If any instrument chargeable with duty and which is not duly stamped is produced by any person of his own motion before the Division Peishcar within one year from the date of its execution or first execution, and such person brings to the notice of the Division Peishcar the fact that such instrument is not duly stamped, and offers to pay to the Division Peishcar the amount of the proper duty, or the amount required to make up the same, and the Division Peishcar is satisfied that the omission to duly stamp such instrument has been occasioned by accident, mistake or urgent necessity, he may, instead of proceeding under sections thirty and thirty-four, receive such amount and proceed as next hereinafter prescribed.

Nothing in this section applies to an instrument chargeable with a duty of one anna only or to a bill of exchange or promissory note.

36. When the duty and penalty (if any) leviable in respect of any instrument have been paid under section thirty-one, section thirty-four or section thirty-five, the person admitting such instrument in evidence, or registering it, or the Division Peishcar (as the case may be), shall certify by endorsement thereon that the proper duty or (as the case may be) the proper duty and penalty (stating the amount of each) have been levied in respect thereof, and the name and residence of the person paying them.

Every instrument so endorsed shall thereupon be admissible in evidence, and may be registered and acted upon and authenticated as if it had been duly stamped, and shall be delivered on his application in this behalf to the person from whose possession it came into the hands of the officer impounding it, or returned as provided in section thirty-four to the officer from whom it was received :

Provided that no instrument which has been admitted in evidence or registered upon payment of duty and a penalty under section thirty-one shall be so delivered before the expiration of one month from the date of such impounding, or if the Division Peishcar has certified that its further detention is necessary and has not cancelled such certificate.

37. The payment of a penalty under this chapter in respect of an instrument shall not bar the prosecution of any person who appears to have committed an offence against the stamp-law in respect of such instrument :

But no such prosecution shall be instituted in the case of any instrument in respect of which such penalty has been paid, unless it appears to the Division Peishcar that the offence was committed with an intention of evading payment of the proper duty and the sanction of Our Dewan has been obtained for such prosecution.

38. When any duty or penalty has been paid, under section thirty-one, section thirty-four or section thirty-five, by any person in respect of an instrument, and by agreement, or under the provisions of section twenty-seven, some other person was bound to bear the expense of providing the proper stamp for such instrument, the first mentioned person shall be entitled to recover from such other person the amount of the duty or penalty so paid ; and for the purpose of such recovery any certificate granted in respect of such instrument under section thirty-six shall be conclusive evidence of the matters therein certified.

Endorsement of instruments on which duty has been paid under sections 31, 34 or 35.

Prosecution for offence against stamp-law.

Proviso.

Persons paying duty or penalty may recover rates in certain cases.

39. When any stamp duty or penalty is paid under section thirty-one or thirty-four, the Dewan may, upon application in writing made within one year from the date of the payment, refund such duty or penalty wholly or in part.

40. If any instrument sent to a Division Peishcar under the second paragraph of section thirty-two be lost, destroyed, or damaged during transmission, the person sending the same shall not be liable for such loss, destruction or damage.

When any instrument is about to be so sent, the person from whose possession it came into the hands of the person impounding the same may require a copy thereof to be made at the expense of such first mentioned person and authenticated by the person impounding such instrument.

41. When any bill of exchange or promissory note chargeable with the duty of one anna, or any cheque, is presented for payment unstamped, the person to whom it is so presented may affix thereto the necessary adhesive stamp, and upon cancelling the same in manner hereinbefore provided may pay the sum payable upon such bill, note or cheque, and may charge the duty against the person who ought to have paid the same, or deduct it from the sum payable as aforesaid, and such bill, note or cheque shall, so far as respects the duty, be deemed good and valid.

But nothing herein contained shall relieve any person from any penalty he may have incurred in relation to such bill, note or cheque.

CHAPTER V.

REFERENCE AND REVISION.

42. If any Division Peishcar acting under section twenty-eight, section thirty-four or section thirty-five or section forty-seven feels doubt as to the amount of duty with which any instrument is chargeable, he may draw up a statement of the case and submit it with his own opinion thereon through the Dewan for the decision of the High Court.

Every such case shall be decided by not less than three Judges of the High Court, and in case of difference, the opinion of the majority shall prevail.

43. If the High Court is not satisfied that the statements contained in the case are sufficient to enable it to determine the questions raised thereby, the Court may refer the case back to the Division Peishcar, to make such additions thereto or alterations therein as the Court may direct in that behalf.

44. The High Court, upon the hearing of any such case, shall decide the questions raised thereby and shall deliver its judgment thereon containing the grounds on which such decision is founded; and it shall send to the Dewan, for communication to the Division Peishcar, a copy of such judgment under the seal of the Court, and the signature of the Judges, and the Division Peishcar shall, on receiving such copy, dispose of the case conformably to such judgment.

45. If any Court other than the High Court feels doubt as to the amount of duty to be paid in respect of any instrument under the first proviso to section thirty-one, the Judge may draw up a statement of the case and refer it with his own opinion thereon for the decision of the High Court, and that Court shall deal with the case as if it had been referred under section forty-two, and send a copy of its judgment, under the seal of the Court and the signature of the Registrar, to the Judge making the reference, who shall, on receiving such copy, dispose of the case conformably to such judgment.

References made under this section, when made by a Court subordinate to a Zillah Court, shall be made through the Zillah Court, and when made by any subordinate Revenue Court, shall be made through the Court immediately superior.

46. When any Court in the exercise of civil or revenue jurisdiction makes any order admitting any instrument in evidence as duly stamped or as not requiring a stamp, or upon payment of duty and a penalty under section thirty-one, the Court to which appeals lie from, or references are made by, such first-mentioned Court may, of its own motion or on the application of the Division Peishcar, take such order into consideration; and if it is of opinion that such instrument should not have been admitted in evidence without the payment of duty and penalty under section thirty-one, or without the payment of a higher duty and penalty than those paid, may record a declaration to that effect, and determine the amount of duty with which such instrument is chargeable, and may require any person in whose possession or power such instrument then is, to produce the same, and may impound the same when produced.

When any declaration has been recorded under this section, the Court recording the same shall send a copy thereof to the Division Peishcar and, where the instrument to which it relates has been impounded or is otherwise in the possession of such Court, shall also send him such instrument; and thereupon the Division Peishcar shall, by notice in writing, demand payment within a reasonable time to be fixed by himself and may, notwithstanding any thing contained in the order admitting such instrument in evidence, or in any certificate granted under section thirty-six, or in section thirty-seven, prosecute any person for any offence against the stamp-law which the Division Peishcar considers him to have committed in respect of such instrument:

Provided that no such prosecution shall be instituted where the amount (including duty and penalty) which according to the determination of such Court was payable in respect of the instrument under section thirty-one is paid to the Division Peishcar, unless he thinks that the offence was committed with an intention of evading payment of the proper duty; and unless the sanction of the Dewan is previously obtained for such prosecution:

Provided also that, except for the purposes of such prosecution, no declaration made under this section shall affect the validity of any order admitting any instrument in evidence, or of any certificate granted under section thirty-six.

47. When a registering officer has registered an instrument under section thirty-one, and has forwarded to the Division Peishcar a copy thereof under section thirty-two, the Division Peishcar shall without delay examine such copy and if he is of opinion that such instrument should not have been registered without the payment of a higher duty and penalty than those paid, he may record a declaration to that effect and determine the amount of duty with which such instrument is chargeable and may require any person in whose possession or power such instrument then is to produce the same, and may impound the same when produced.

When any declaration has been recorded under this section the Division Peishcar may adopt the same procedure in respect of the instrument as is provided in the case of declarations under the last preceding section.

CHAPTER VI.

ALLOWANCES FOR SPOILED STAMPS AND STAMPS NO LONGER REQUIRED.

48. Subject to such rules as may be made by Our Government as to the evidence which the Division Peishcar may require, allowance shall be made by the Dewan for impressed stamps spoiled in the cases hereinafter mentioned, namely :—

(a) The stamp on any paper inadvertently and undesignedly spoiled, obliterated or by any means rendered unfit for the purpose intended, before any instrument written thereon is executed by any person :

(b) The stamp used or intended to be used for any bill of exchange, cheque or promissory note, signed by or on behalf of the drawer or intended drawer, but not delivered out of his hands to the payee or intended payee or any person on his behalf, or deposited with any person as a security for the payment of money, or in any way negotiated, issued or put in circulation, or made use of in any other manner, and which, being a bill of exchange or cheque, has not been accepted by the drawee, and provided that the paper on which any such stamp is impressed does not bear any signature intended as or for the acceptance of any bill of exchange or cheque to be afterwards written thereon :

(c) The stamp used or intended to be used for any bill of exchange, cheque or promissory note signed by, or on behalf of, the drawer thereof, but which from any omission or error has been spoiled or rendered useless, although the same, being bill of exchange or cheque, may have been presented for acceptance or accepted or endorsed, or, being a promissory note, may have been delivered to the payee, provided that another completed and duly-stamped bill of exchange, cheque or promissory note is produced identical in every particular, except in the correction of such omission or error as aforesaid, with the spoiled bill, cheque or note :

(d) The stamp used for any of the following instruments, that is to say :—

(1) an instrument executed by any party thereto, but afterwards found by a competent Court to be absolutely void in law from the beginning :

(2) an instrument executed by any person but afterwards found unfit, by reason of any error or mistake therein, for the purpose originally intended :

(3) an instrument executed by any party thereto, but which, by reason of the death of any person by whom it is necessary that it should be executed without having executed the same, or of the refusal of any such person to execute the same, or to advance any money intended to be thereby secured, cannot be completed so as to effect the intended transaction in the form proposed :

(4) an instrument executed by any party thereto which, for want of the execution thereof by some material party, and his inability or refusal to sign the same, is in fact incomplete and insufficient for the purpose for which it was intended :

(5) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which by reason of the refusal of any person to act under the same, or by the refusal or non-acceptance of any office thereby granted, totally fails of the intended purpose :

(6) an instrument executed by any party thereto which becomes useless in consequence of the transaction intended to be thereby effected being effected by some other instrument duly stamped :

(7) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which is inadvertently and undesignedly spoiled, and in lieu whereof another instrument made between the same parties and for the same purpose is executed and duly stamped :

Provided that in the case of an executed instrument—

(a) such instrument is given up to be cancelled :

(b) the application for relief is made within six months after the date of the instrument or, if it is not dated, within six months after the execution thereof by the person by whom it was first or alone executed, except where from unavoidable circumstances any instrument for which another instrument has been substituted cannot be given up to be cancelled within the aforesaid period, and in that case within six months after the date or execution of the substituted instrument, and except where the spoiled instrument has been sent out of Travancore, and in that case within six months after it has been received back in Travancore :

Provided also that, in the case of stamped paper not having any executed instrument written thereon, the application for relief is made within six months after the stamp has been spoiled as aforesaid.

49. When any person has inadvertently used, for an instrument chargeable with duty, a stamp of a description other than that prescribed for such instrument by the rules made under this Regulation, or a stamp of greater value than was necessary, or has inadvertently used any stamp for an instrument not chargeable with any duty, or when any stamp used for an instrument has been inadvertently rendered useless under section thirteen owing to such instrument having been written in contravention of the provisions of section eleven, the Division Peishcar may, on application made within six months after the date of the instrument or, if it is not dated within six months after the execution thereof by the person by whom it was first or alone executed, and upon the instrument, if chargeable with duty, being re-stamped with the proper duty, cancel and allow as spoiled the stamp so misused or rendered useless.

50. In any case in which allowance is made for spoiled or misused stamps the Division Peishcar may, with the sanction of the Dewan, give in lieu thereof (a) other stamps of the same description and value, or, (b) if required, and he thinks fit, stamps of any other description to the same amount in value or, (c) at his discretion the same value in money, deducting one anna for each rupee or fraction of a rupee.

Allowance under sections 47 and 49, how to be made.

DEMARICATION RULES.

Before proceeding to start work in a Taluq the Supervisor charged with the duty, should visit the Taluq and see to complete arrangements being made for the requisite supply of stones for boundary and field demarcation. He should meet the Tasildar and the local Proverthiars and also the leading ryots and make them understand the nature of the work to be undertaken and the kind of co-operation expected from them.

2. A general Notification under the signature of the Settlement Dewan Feishcar will be issued with an abstract of the Boundary Regulation which the Supervisor should see duly published in the several Proverthies.

3. One or two Deputy Supervisors, with a staff of Demarcators, will then be deputed, whose duty it will be to go over each Proverthy and prepare an eye-sketch shewing the boundaries of the Proverthy, the position of the component Moories and their limits, the divisions into which the Proverthy should be divided, and also the main roads, rivers, channels &c. which skirt or cross the boundary lines.

4. The Tasildar or one of his Sumprethies, and the local Proverthiars and accountant and also those of the adjacent Proverthies should accompany the inspecting officer with the Olugu and other accounts and furnish the necessary information for identifying the boundary lines.

5. If the Proverthy boundary is found to require adjustment in any place, owing to very irregular shape or for the sake of compactness or convenience, a special report should be made of the parts to be added or excluded.

6. Special reports will also be made of cases where the boundary runs over very mountainous or other impracticable ground.

7. These reports must be invariably accompanied by illustrative sketches and must be promptly submitted, so that sanction for transfer of land or deviation from true boundaries may be obtained before demarcation commences.

8. On receipt of Government sanction, a revised sketch will be prepared shewing the amended boundaries.

9. If the Proverthy be within 4 square miles in extent, it will form a village in itself. If more than 4 square miles, it should be divided into two or more villages according to the size.

10. The villages should be so formed that each may have a fair proportion of the population and the cultivated area of the Proverthy, as far as possible, and include entire Moories.

11. The Tasildar and local Proverthiars should, as a rule, be consulted in the forming of villages, and a sketch should be drawn shewing the boundary lines of the villages and the position of the Moories, and at the foot of the sketch, the area of each village, and the population and land revenue should be entered as approximately as possible.

12. The sketch should be forwarded to the Supervisor, who, after verification, will submit it with a report to the Central Office for orders.

BOUNDARY DEMARICATION.

13. On the sketch being approved, a notice will be published under the signature of the Settlement Dewan Feishcar, or his Deputy in charge of the party, informing the land-holders of the villages formed, and of the date when the demarcation of their properties will commence.

14. The demarcation of the village boundaries will then be proceeded with.

15. Where a free-hold tract belonging to a Jenny or Chief such as what is termed Desom Olivu, (Desom Olivu) or Adhigurum Olivu (Adhigurum Olivu) lies contiguous to a village, the Jenny or Chief should be communicated with before demarcating that boundary, so that the Jenny or Chief may be able to depute his agent to represent his interests.

16. Any differences arising regarding the boundary between the village and the free-hold Desom or Adhigurum should be reported for orders, and adjusted under Government sanction, unless the Jenny or Chief concerned agrees to the boundary in accordance with Government accounts.

17. All tracts recognised as Desom Olivu, or Adhigurum Olivu, will be treated as separate villages or circuits, and demarcated in other respects as other properties.

18. Where a village boundary runs over very mountainous or difficult country, and its demarcation would, therefore, entail great labour and cost, the Supervisor, under orders of the Settlement Dewan Peishcar may grant permission to mark a conventional line round such tract of country, but in the case of adjoining free-hold Desoms &c., the true boundary will be invariably demarcated.

19. Granite stones will, in all cases, be used for marking boundaries according to the size and description given in the Appendix.

20. When a flat rock is found conveniently situated, it should be utilized as a boundary station or offset the Shank and the following symbols being used — (Station) (Offset).

21. The cost of station and offset stones planted in connection with private lands, will be charged to the villagers rateably on their land assessment.

22. All station stones must have a plummet hole drilled in the centre of the upper surface, about one inch deep and three-quarters of an inch in diameter.

23. The Shank on the side and the distinguishing mark on the upper surface should be cut not less than a quarter of an inch deep.

24. All stones must be roughly squared for one-third of their length from the top, but it does not matter how rough they are for the remaining portion of their length, as that will be imbedded in the ground.

25. As Demarcators are responsible that no stone is found on inspection to be loose, they must take special care that all are properly imbedded, the hole should be made very little larger than the stone, and a small quantity of earth being put in, it must be well tamped from the bottom.

26. No stone should be accepted that is more than one inch smaller than the size ordered.

27. When selecting sites for stations, the Demarcator must see that each station is as far as possible from the one on each side of it, provided both are clearly visible from it, and that no bend on the boundary is more than three chains from the line between any two stations.

28. Every station stone must be on the exact boundary, and, wherever possible at the junction of three field-boundaries.

29. There must be sufficient level space round each station to receive the Theodolite and to enable the Surveyor to use it.

30. When in allowing this space the station stone has to be planted away from the boundary line, on a public road or pathway, the stone should be sunk one inch below the surface and an offset stone set up opposite; the position of the stone being indicated in the sketch.

31. Wherever convenient, an offset stone should take the place of a field stone at the junction of three fields.

32. When the village boundary runs through waste, very few offsets will be required, but when there is cultivation on the boundary, every bend must be marked.

33. When bends on the boundary are very numerous, endeavours should be made to induce the ryots to straighten them, they will thus save themselves the cost of many stones; but unless alteration is actually made, all bends must be marked as laid down in section 32.

34. When demarcating along the banks of rivers, and channels, or the sides of roads, &c., care must be taken that the marks are erected at sufficient distance from the edge to prevent all possibility of their being destroyed. This caution applies specially to stations, which must invariably be in a safe position, and on firm ground.

35. Station sites should, in the first instance, be marked by flags, and offsets by pegs or holes. Orders will then be given for the stones to be brought, and as soon as they have been erected, the Demarcator will go over the lines again and see that the stones are properly imbedded in the right places.

36. No alteration is ever to be made in a line already demarcated in an adjoining village, without the express permission of the Supervisor, who will see, in case he grants the permission, that the completed sketch is also altered.

37. When the boundary has been demarcated, the village will be divided into divisions by check traverse lines through the length of the village, from 20 to 40 chains apart.

38. The said lines must always follow the field boundaries commencing and closing on village boundary stations; they should be marked in the manner most convenient for Survey by Theodolite, and the divisions should be as regular as possible. The rules for the selection of sites for stations &c., on village boundaries apply also to divisions.

39. Large tanks, hills, blocks of jungle and rivers passing through a village, will be marked as divisions of the village.

40. Arable waste lands situated in villages, and in the midst of cultivated lands, and as such likely to be sought after for cultivation, should be demarcated in fields of two acres if wet, and of four acres if dry.

Other outlying tracts not likely to be readily brought under the plough may be demarcated in blocks of 100 acres or so.

41. When permission has been granted under para 8 to deviate from the exact boundary, the approximate limits will be shown on sketches by dotted lines and the portion of the excluded tract, belonging to each village will be numbered as one of its divisions.

42. The demarcated divisions will be numbered consecutively, commencing at the north-east or north-west corner.

43. A rough sketch of the village and its divisions and minor circuits will be prepared in pencil when the sites for the marks are selected and inked in as soon as the stones are fixed. The area of each division will be entered under its number.

44. The sketch should be drawn on a scale just large enough to allow of each bend and stone being clearly shewn; it should also show the approximate position of the village sites and hamlets, chief roads, tanks, rivers and all old boundary marks if any. The sketch must be on good paper of regular shape, and must be kept rolled and not folded.

45. On the upper part of the sketch will be entered the name of the Taluq and Proverthy, number and name of the village and area as per village accounts, also the North point.

46. The number of the stones erected will be given on the sketch in the following tabular form.

	Stations.	Offsets.
Erected before on the side of village	20	102
Do. on	24	130
Now erected in	118	496
Total.....	162	728
On Division boundaries...	322	1,561

47. The numbers and names of exterior adjacent villages will be entered, and in the lower right hand corner the Demarcator's and Deputy Supervisor's signatures, with dates of commencement, completion and inspection.

48. A duplicate copy of the sketch must be prepared and sent to the Deputy Supervisor as soon as the last stone has been erected.

49. The Boundary Demarcators and the Deputy Supervisors must use their best endeavours to induce villagers to have all the necessary field-stones ready before field demarcation commences; the number in readiness will be regularly noted in the weekly reports of work.

50. They will also explain to the land-holders all that will be required of them, and give them any information they may ask for regarding demarcation.

FIELD DEMARCATION.

51. When a village is laid out in divisions and the boundary marks are set up the village will be assigned for field-demarcation to one or more Demarcators. If more than one be employed, they will be set to work in different divisions in the order in which they are numbered in the sketch.

52. The Demarcators will carry on their work under the direction of Deputy Supervisors and Supervisors in the proportion of 4 of the former and 2 of the latter to every 32 Demarcators.

53. Each Demarcator will be furnished with a copy of the sketch showing village and division boundaries—and printed form of the Field Register. For using the Sketch and the Register the Demarcator will be guided by the detailed instructions laid down under appropriate headings.

54. As soon as the Demarcator arrives at the village, his first duty will be to send to the Supervisor a special report regarding the supply of stones ready, the presence of Proverthy officials and land-holders or any other circumstances likely to affect progress of work. Unless this report is sent, excuses for delay made afterwards will not be accepted.

55. The Demarcator must always be accompanied by a Proverthy accountant with Olugu and other accounts and by the owner of the properties he is demarcating. Wherever possible two or three intelligent and respectable ryots well acquainted with the locality should also be in attendance.

56. If owing to several Demarcators being at work in the same village or in the different villages of the Proverthy, the number of accountants of the Proverthy be insufficient to meet the requirements, arrangements should be previously made with the Tahsildars to supplement them by others drawn from the neighbouring Proverthies.

57. Where a division is mixed up of paddy lands and gardens, the Demarcator will, as a rule, deal with the properties of one description first—(wet or dry cultivation) and then with those of the other.

58. The Demarcator must be careful that timely notice is invariably given to all persons whose attendance he may require; he should daily ascertain the names of the proprietors or occupants of the lands he has to demarcate next day, and issue written notices to be served on them.

59. He should, as a rule, plant stones as he proceeds, but if he cannot easily do so, he will, in the first instance, mark out the field boundaries with pegs, making his sketch and filling up his Register; the pegs should be replaced by stones without delay.

60. If possible all the stones in one division should be erected before the demarcation of the next one commences; in no case should more than two divisions assigned to one and the same Demarcator be allowed to remain incomplete at the same time.

61. Every piece of land that cannot be measured by chain in triangles, must, as a rule, be demarcated as a minor circuit; if less than about 50 acres, such circuit may be included in the same division with measurable fields; if more, it should be treated as a separate division, in either case a separate field number will be assigned to it.

Village sites, freehold Desoms, large tracts of waste land, tanks &c., will be treated under this para.

62. When there is only one such piece of land of less than 10 acres within a division, or several small pieces aggregating less than 10 acres and the boundaries of such pieces are not very irregular, they need not be marked as minor circuits, but can be left to be dealt with by the Surveyor.

63. All fields which have to be treated as circuits having been demarcated as such the remaining fields in the village will be marked with ordinary field stones for chain measurement only.

64. In marking out fields existing boundaries must be adhered to and all bends marked except such as are within 10 links from a line between the marks on each side where the land is valuable or 20 links in dry land of little value.

65. When these small bends between two corners are not marked, care should be taken that the corner stones are so placed that an equal quantity of land is given and taken on both sides of the line.

66. When field boundaries are found to be very crooked, every endeavour should be made to induce land-holders to consent to their being rectified; it must be explained that the saving in stones will be very great, and that they can lose nothing, because, just as much will be added to each field as is taken away from it.

67. If ryots agree to straighten their boundaries, they must demolish the old and set up the new banks at once; unless they do this, the field boundaries will have to be marked as they exist; in no case is any bend beyond the limits prescribed in section 64 to be ignored on the plea that the ryots will form the new banks after the marks have been put in.

68. A sketch showing every rectified boundary will be entered in the village Agreement book.

69. The signatures of the land-holders interested will in each case be entered and the Supervisor when testing work will himself see all the straightened boundaries, and note whether the bends have been properly equalized and substantial bunds raised in accordance with the sketch.

70. When there are banks or hedges between adjacent fields, the centre of these will, as a rule, be considered the boundary; in some cases the whole of the hedge &c. may belong to the holder of one of the fields, it must then be included in that field.

71. When village roads, cart tracks or channels divide fields, they will, if more than about 15 feet wide, be demarcated as separate numbers; when less, they will be included in either of the adjoining fields. The same rule applies when the road or channel runs through a field.

Note. A width of 10 Feet is allowed as the minimum for culch alone.

72. Care should be taken to leave sufficient width for village roads, also that public land set apart for burial grounds, market places, topes, village sites &c. is not encroached on. Where no proper title can be shown, the land in question must be marked out with the Puraamboke.

73. Unprofitable land such as masses of rock, streams &c. which are included in a land-holder's property must, if he wishes, be included in his field by the Demarcator, but any such piece of land of greater extent than half an acre (or in the case of large fields more than one-fifth of the area of the field) may, at the ryot's request, be marked out and registered as a separate field; when this is not done the owner of the field will sign an entry in the Agreement book to the effect that the unprofitable land was included at his request.

74. When the patches of unculturable land in a Putta field are very small, and much scattered, they need not be noted by the Demarcator, such cases will be considered by the Settlement Officer when classifying the fields.

75. In demarcating the boundaries of Government roads, channels, tanks or other public works in the charge of the D. P. W., the Demarcator will be guided by the boundary marks erected by the D. P. W. Where such marks do not exist, the walls or fences of adjacent private properties, or the limits of present cultivation will be taken as the boundary line.

76. In doubtful cases notice must be sent through the Supervisor to the Overseer or other subordinate of D. P. W., in charge to attend, and point out the boundaries. If there is any considerable difference between the line pointed out by the Public Works Officer and by the ryots, the matter must be reported for orders.

77. In cases of other channels, tanks &c., of public utility, the stones should be placed not nearer than 6 feet from the foot of the slope of the sides where they form detached bunds or embankments. Where a ryot objects to the allowing of this margin on the ground of long possession of the land, his adjacent land will be measured out with reference to the accounts, and the boundary line demarcated accordingly.

78. Where public lanes or pathways are encroached upon and included in adjacent properties, their limits will be ascertained with reference to the accounts and demarcated as separate numbers or not as laid down in section 71.

79. In cases where the lanes have been planted and long enjoyed, or where the ryots concerned object to giving them up, they should be demarcated along with the properties in which they are included and should be indicated in the Sketch and Register by distinguishing letters.

80. Where small detached pieces of cultivation are found to exist within the village site, or in tank-beds or forest blocks, orders must be applied for, the exact position, extent, &c. being given.

81. The supervising officer will, in such cases, use his discretion in directing that the fields be marked under the ordinary rules as minor circuits, or that they be omitted by the Demarcator, or that they be marked as fields only, for measurement by chain; his decision will depend upon the extent and value of the land, the comparative difficulty and cost of survey, the permanency of the cultivation and the probability of the surrounding lands being afterwards taken up.

82. In important cases where there is a great deal of this scattered cultivation, the orders of the Settlement Dewan Peishcar must be applied for.

83. All permanently established cultivation in tank or river beds should be marked out; fields that are regularly submerged should be included in the tank or river division; if the holders of land within the bed of a tank wish to give it up and sign a statement to that effect in the Agreement book, the land need not be marked out. Unregistered land in the water-spread of a tank is in no case, to be demarcated in fields.

84. A revenue field is a piece of land which bears a separate number. Revenue fields how to be numbered or name in the present accounts whether assessed to or exempted from public revenue.

85. As a rule each Revenue field will form a Survey field. This rule should be strictly observed except as below:—

EXCEPTION I. Two or more contiguous fields owned by the same ryot may be clubbed into one Survey field, subject to the following conditions:—

1st. The Revenue fields so clubbed must all be of the same description, wet or dry, (Dry includes gardens).

2nd. They must all be of the same tenure.

3rd. The Revenue fields so clubbed must not exceed in the aggregate 2 acres if wet land, and 4 acres if garden or dry.

4th. They must not differ perceptibly in quality of soil.

5th. They must not be situated in strikingly higher and lower levels. For instance, there may be paddy lands on the slope of a hill and others in the flat of the valley some feet below; such lands ought never to be mixed up in one Survey number.

6th. If wet lands, the included Revenue fields should all be either single crop or double crop lands.

7th. There must not be any difference in regard to the source of irrigation.

For example—a land under a rain fed tank must not be clubbed with one under river-irrigation or a field under one tank or channel with that under another.

8th. They must all be in a compact block not severed by public roads, rivers, or channels.

9th. If the lands to be dealt with be garden lands, planted and non-planted properties, differently assessable, the former with tree-rates, and the latter with ground tax, must not be included in the same Survey number.

EXCEPTION II. Government gardens, sites of Palace buildings, Public offices, Government Schools, Satrams, Travellers' Bungalows, Military Stations &c., will in each case be demarcated together, though the lands comprised may be of different numbers and even of different tenures.

So also the Revenue fields included in village sites; free-hold Desoms &c. which under para 61 will form minor circuits.

EXCEPTION III. Fields occupying the banks of rivers, creeks, tanks, &c., mentioned in paras 75 and 77 must be marked out with the Puraamboke, being included with the said rivers, channels &c.

In every such case a remark will be entered in the Register of the Revenue numbers, the name of the owner, and the existence of taxable trees if any. The position of the property will be indicated in the sketch.

EXCEPTION IV. Where a Revenue number occupies a small area below 5 cents as a bund, cultivator's lodge &c. in the midst of paddy lands, it will be clubbed with the adjacent property of the owner if he has any, or with that of another, whatever may be the tenure. In the former case, if the area is planted, it will have a distinguishing letter, with the particulars entered in the Register. In the latter case, the same rule will be followed, whether the land forms a plantation or not.

EXCEPTION V. Where an area of paddy cultivation containing more than 5 cents is situated in the midst of a garden, it will be included in the same Survey number with that garden and be distinguished by a letter as in the preceding para.

EXCEPTION VI. There may be cases in which the site of a house or other building includes portions of two or more properties of different tenures. In such cases the included properties may be demarcated together, the area not built upon belonging to each tenure being ascertained and specified by a letter and particulars entered in the Register.

86. Except as above specified no fields of different tenures should be dubbed together in the same Survey number.

87. Sometimes it so happens that such fields in the occupation of a ryot lie mixed up together without any land-marks to identify them. It will be the duty of the Demarcator to separate and mark out each tenure with reference to the accounts. The rule to be followed is to ascertain, by actual measurement, the area in Parahs of the whole block and then to divide it proportionately according to the number of Parahs entered in the accounts for the several tenures.

Thus—suppose No. 7 Pandara Otti, and No. 8 Erayali, entered in the accounts as 1 and 3 Parahs respectively, are found mixed up together. By actual measurement the whole area contains, say, 6 Parahs. Then $\frac{1}{4}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ of this entire area will be marked out for Nos. 7 and 8 respectively.

88. No Revenue field, however large, will be sub-divided except in the following cases:—

EXCEPTION I. Where a Revenue field is partitioned among the different individuals, each holding his share as a distinct property by right of inheritance, sale or otherwise, every such portion must be demarcated as a separate number.

Where the divisions lie undefined on the ground, the limits of each will be marked as the owners may point out by common consent.

Any portion of a field, held on mortgage or other revocable title, must not be separately demarcated, but will be included in the same Survey number with the portion retained by the owner, the fact of separate possession alone being entered in the Register.

Where the owners do not desire to have their shares separated, and consent to hold them jointly, they will be demarcated together, the names of the several joint owners being entered in the Register, with particulars as to the proportion of the shares if this be known.

EXCEPTION II. Where paddy land forming an entire Revenue field is partly converted into a plantation, the part so converted will be separately demarcated if it is of measurable size and has taxable trees.

Otherwise both parts will be demarcated together and distinguished by letters.

The same rule will apply to garden land partly converted into paddy cultivation.

89. Occupied lands not yet brought to account and assessed to Government revenue will be considered as Puthuvals.

90. Such Puthuval lands shall be demarcated according to existing occupancy subject to the rules laid down in para 85.

91. Puthuval plantations occupying the banks of rivers, channels &c. will be dealt with according to the rules contained in para 83 Exception III.

Note.—The trees only will be registered and not the ground on which they stand. Whether the trees are bearing or below bearing age will be mentioned in the remark column of the Register.

92. If any portions of such banks &c. being public property, be taken up or occupied in view to cultivation, and the holders want such portions to be demarcated, demarcation will, as a rule, be refused and the lands restored to the banks.

93. Any cases of doubt or dispute will be specially reported for orders.

94. Special care is necessary in demarcating registered properties bordering on waste lands, public roads, banks of rivers, &c. belonging to Government. The Demarcator should see, by actual measurement, and with reference to accounts, whether any encroachments have been made.

Encroachments on Government lands.

95. Where evident encroachment exists, and where the encroached part is within a width of 16 feet, and has an area above 1 and below 26 cents, it will be demarcated with the property to which it is added and will be marked by a letter.

96. Where the encroached land is above this width and size, it will be separately demarcated.

97. Any area measuring one cent or below need not be noticed at all.

98. If, in any case, it is found necessary or proper, in the interests of Government, or of the public, that the encroached land should be restored, and if the ryot concerned consents to give it up, the restoration should be effected before demarcation. Otherwise the matter should be specially reported for orders.

99. Care is likewise necessary in demarcating lands which were once private properties, but now unoccupied and lying waste, having reverted to Government by relinquishment or other causes.

100. If it is found, with reference to the accounts, and by actual measurement, that any such land has been encroached upon by an adjacent land-owner, restoration should be effected before demarcation.

101. If the adjacent land-owner concerned, objects to the restoration, the demarcation may be made according to present possession. But in the Register, the Revenue number of the property to which the encroached part is added must be coupled with the number of the property encroached upon, and particulars entered in the Remark column for identification of the part.

102. Corresponding remarks will be entered opposite the encroached property to account for the loss occasioned by the encroachment.

BOUNDARY DISPUTES.

103. The disputes likely to arise in the course of demarcation may be generally in respect of two neighbouring Revenue fields having no distinct boundaries between them, or of a single field sub-divided where the sub-divisions are not defined on the ground.

104. In the former case the Village accounts will guide the determining of the boundary line. In the latter case the express terms on which the sub-division is made will help to adjustment of the dispute.

105. The Demarcator should use every endeavour to bring about an amicable settlement, and with tact on his part, this can generally be done.

106. Cases so adjusted will be entered in the Agreement book then and there and the signature of the parties taken.

107. When contending parties fail to come to any agreement, the Supervisor must be informed and he or his Deputy will, after due enquiry on the spot, submit a report in the prescribed form to the Officer empowered to decide such cases.

108. It may sometimes happen that a party may dispute the correctness of an existing boundary, and require it to be re-adjusted, but it shall be the duty of the Demarcator to respect present possession and to decline to enter into any investigation of rights.

109. Possession, where it is clear, should be maintained, and one party should not be allowed to disturb the undisputed possession of another. Advantage, in fact, should not be allowed to be taken of the demarcation to get up new disputes, and all attempts of this nature must be discountenanced.

SKETCHES.

110. When the field Demarcator receives a copy of the sketch of village and division boundaries alluded to in para 53, he will copy each division on a larger scale on a separate paper and enter in it the boundaries of the fields he demarcates.

111. Fields must be consecutively numbered throughout a village the divisions being taken up in the order in which they have been numbered by the Boundary Demarcator. It will be found convenient to assign to each field a divisional number (in pencil) in the first instance, and to fill in the general village number when all the fields have been demarcated.

112. Sketches must be neatly drawn on a scale sufficiently large to admit of every bend being clearly shown; where fields are of moderate size, (3 or 4 acres each) a square inch should represent about an acre; the lines will be inked as soon as the stones have been erected and not before; every demarcation mark will be represented in the manner ordered.

113. At the head of the sketch, the name of the Taluk, number and name of the village, number and area of the division and number of field stones will be entered, the numbers and names of adjoining villages or the numbers of adjacent divisions and fields must also be given.

114. The Demarcator must sign each sketch in the lower corner and enter date of commencement, and completion of the division; nothing else should be entered on the sketch.

115. When roads or channels, or other public property, have not been separately marked, their position will be shown on the sketch.

FIELD REGISTER.

116. Registers must be filled in along with the sketches.

117. Column 1 of the Register will be left blank and filled after Column 1. the whole village has been demarcated.

118. In Column 2 the division numbers corresponding to those in the sketches will be entered as each field is demarcated. They will be written first in pencil.

Column 2.

119. In Column 3 the name of the field should also be entered under each Revenue number, there being no separate column for names.

Column 3.

Where a field has no Ayacut number, the Puthuval number if it is registered property, will be entered; otherwise, no number will be entered in the column.

The Registry for Puthuval properties may not be available to the Demarcator on the spot. But he can easily ascertain from the village accountant and the owner whether the property is registered and tax-paying or not and according to the information he may obtain, he will note in the Remark Column 'registered' or 'not registered'.

In cases of doubt he will enter the words 'to be ascertained'.

As the demarcation of each division is completed, if not before, the numbers as per Puthuval Registry should all be filled in with the assistance of village accountants.

All the old Ayacut (Paimash) numbers must be accounted for in the Register and entered opposite the Survey numbers in which they are included; and where portions of an old number are included in several Survey fields the approximate area of each such portion should be entered opposite its proper Survey number.

120. Under the head 'tenure' in Column 4; only the tenures as per Government Ohagu accounts should be entered; as 'Pandara Pattam', 'Otty', 'Adima', 'Annbhogam', 'Kudijemum', 'Nilsampalam', and similar tenures of Janm properties under Deva-swam, Brahmaswam &c.

Column 4.

Suppose, certain land is entered in the account as 'Athyaramadham Otty' this means a tenure, and should be entered in Column 4. 'Athyaramadham' should not be taken as the actual owner and entered in Column 7 as Register holder.

Sometimes a certain tenure as given in the accounts may have been subsequently converted into some other tenure. If this conversion be known the altered tenure should be entered and not the one in the Ayacut. The fact of conversion and the Ayacut tenure will be noted in the Remarks.

121. The description of wet, dry or garden in respect of any property (column 5) should have sole reference to its present condition.

Column 5.

A property originally wet, but now turned into garden, will be entered as garden land and vice versa, a note being made in the remark column as to the fact of the change.

122. The head 'cultivated' (column 6) will include (1) all registered properties tax-paying and tax-free (2) all non-registered properties Puthuvals liable to Government tax.

Column 6.

Note.—There may be registered properties lying unutilized for a long period owing to the road being cut up by new roads, branches, or other causes; but the tax may still be levied. Such lands must be entered as 'cultivated' with particulars in the Remark column describing the present condition.

Non-registered property (Puthuval land) may have no cultivation of any kind properly so called; but may be occupied by houses or enclosed or appropriated as building sites. Such lands will fall under this heading 'cultivated'.

'Culturable' and 'unculturable' will embrace all unoccupied Government wastes, 'Nirthal' or relinquished lands and also wastes and jungles belonging to Devaswom or, Brahmaswom or other Jenmies.

Lands that are capable of being cultivated will be entered as 'culturable.' Forests, rocky and stony tracts, sandy wastes as those on the seacoast, lands encroached upon by backwaters, rivers &c. will fall under the head 'unculturable.'

In regard to 'Nirthal' lands and others once under cultivation, the length of time they have been lying waste will be stated in the Remark column if the fact be ascertainable. Otherwise a general remark 'lying waste from time immemorial' will suffice.

123. In filling Column 7 the current Thundaper or rent-roll should be relied on more than the old Ayacut as the property may have changed hands since. The Column 7.

Proverthy accountant ought to be able to say who the Thundaper-holder is in respect of each property. Perhaps the present occupant, if he be not the Thundaper-holder himself may be able to furnish the information and the Thundaper accounts which should always be with the Proverthy Pillay, may be referred to for verification.

Attention should always be directed to transfers of registry finally decided under the Pokuvaravoo Rules, and the entry should be made in accordance with such transfers. A statement of these transfers should be previously prepared and be with the accountant ready for guidance and reference.

It is only as the last resort that the Ayacut name should be used, that is—failing all information as to the present proprietor.

For Puthuvals not yet brought to account no name will of course, be entered in Column 7.

124. The occupant of a property may be the Thundaper-holder himself or one who has succeeded to his full right by inheritance, purchase, gift &c. or he may be a mortgagee or Otti-holder.

Column 8.

But a mere Pathivarakaren or Pantakaren can never be entered as occupant.

When the occupant is other than the individual whose name is entered in Column 7, particulars will be given in the Remark column as to the nature of the occupancy.

125. Column 9 will be filled by entering the number of Parahs for paddy lands and dimensions for gardens as per accounts, and the corresponding figures in acreage.

Column 9.

In converting Parahs into acreage the calculation should be made with reference to the number of square rods (a rod being 10 English feet) fixed as the prevailing equivalent for a Parah in each locality.

When the Parah unit is found to vary, 10 cents will be taken to be equal to a Parah.

The demarcator will note at the foot of the Register the equivalent he has taken for the Parah in making his calculation.

In regard to registered Puthuvals, the Olinu accounts of which are not forthcoming, non-registered Puthuvals, and waste lands of ordinary size, the acreage will be ascertained by actual measurement with the rod.

In the case of large areas of waste land a rough estimate of the extent should be made by measuring any two of the adjacent sides.

126. In preparing these Registers the greatest care is necessary; the required information will be obtained from the Proverthy account.

tant and the entries made in the field; in any doubtful cases, pains should be taken to verify the accountant's statements.

127. At the foot of each division the number of fields in it and their area will be given and at the end of the Register a statistical table in the form ordered will be filled in.

128. When part of a river, range of hills, or forest has been excluded from the demarcated boundary, the fact should be noted opposite the division number assigned to such tract, and the approximate area of the excluded portion added to the Village area.

129. The Demarcator will initial every page of the field Register and the last page will bear his signature and that of his Deputy Supervisor, Supervisor and Proverthy Officials.

130. In preparing Sketches and field Registers, special attention should be paid to the general rule regarding erasures; as entries are all first made in pencil, there should be very few corrections, and when absolutely necessary they should be so made that the original entries remain distinctly visible. In every case the initials of the persons signing the Sketch or Register must be attached.

SUPPLY OF STONES.

131. Depots will be opened at one or two centres conveniently situated in respect of all the villages of the Proverthy from which stones will be supplied both for Government purposes and to such ryots as may be desirous of purchasing them at the contract rates for the demarcation of their own properties.

132. A Proverthy Subordinate will be in charge of the Depots whose duty it will be to examine the stones as they are delivered by contractors and pass such as are of the size and description according to samples.

133. The stones wanted for Government purposes shall be supplied on indents given by the Demarcator according to prescribed Form and the charges of conveying them to the places indicated in the indents will be defrayed by the Proverthy from public funds deposited with him under Government orders.

134. The stones for Government purposes will include village and division boundary station stones and offsets which have to be planted where no private properties exist and field stones for marking Government gardens and other properties of the class mentioned in Para 85 Exception II.

135. When stones have to be supplied from Government stores the cost of which is chargeable to private individuals under section V of Regulation III of 1958 separate indents will be necessary.

136. Indents for stones must be sent in duplicate.

137. The person in charge of the Depot will enter the number supplied in both copies of the indent and return one to the Demarcator who will then sign the receipt form at the foot and forward the indent to the Central Office with his Weekly Report.

138. Where any charges for cooly labor have to be incurred for planting the stones, the Demarcator shall send a requisition to the Proverthicar who will meet the same or otherwise arrange for the planting of the stones.

139. In case any charges are incurred for cooly labor, the Proverthicar shall send a Bill under his signature to the Demarcator who will counter-sign and forward it to the office through the Supervisor.

140. A duplicate copy of the Bill shall be kept on the Proverthy records.

141. At the end of each month, the Proverthicar shall send all the indents received by the Depot official and Bills for cooly charges incurred during the month through the Taluq Cutcherry to the Settlement Office with a statement of the number of stones in hand.

For disposal of references and applications		From 8 to 9 A. M., & from noon to 5 P. M.
" registration	...	...
" insurance	...	...
" posting parcels...	...	From 8 to 9 A. M., & from noon to 5 P. M.

" the issue and payment of money orders	...	...
" Savings Bank business	...	From noon to 4 P. M.
" sale of Postal Notes	...	unless otherwise notified.
" sale of Stock Notes	...	...

SPECIAL HOURS LOCALLY NOTIFIED.—Special hours of business, the hours for closing mails and for the delivery of mails, are notified at every Post office in a conspicuous place.

POST OFFICE HOLIDAYS.—On Sundays and on the following Post Office holidays, New Year's Day, Good Friday, the Queen's Birthday and Christmas Day, the Post Office will not be open for disposal of references and applications, for the purposes of registration or insurance, for the receipt of parcels or value-payable articles, for granting certificates of posting, for the issue or payment of money orders, for the transaction of Savings Bank business or for the sale of Postal Notes or Stock Notes. On these days postage stamps, envelopes and post-cards will not be available to the public unless the last day for closing the mail for Europe should fall on a Sunday or on any of the Post Office holidays.

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE INDIAN POST OFFICE.—The Indian Post Office is exempted by law from all responsibility in the case of any loss or inconvenience which may arise from the misdelivery, missending or non-delivery of any letter, post-card, newspaper, packet or parcel. It is also exempted from responsibility for any injury which the contents of any letter, packet or parcel may sustain during its transmission through the post. In the case of insured articles however, the Indian Post Office is responsible for their safe transmission under certain conditions which will be found stated in the Postal Guide.

POST OFFICE RECEIPTS.—A receipt will be given by the Post Office for every parcel or registered, or value-payable, article presented at the office window during the prescribed hours. This receipt will be given, when desired, in a sender's book, provided that the book is presented at the same time as the article with the address on the article written into it. In this case, however, a separate printed form of receipt will not be given. If several articles of the same class are presented at the same time on the part of the same sender, and bearing the same address, a single receipt, including all the articles, will be given, unless the sender demands a separate receipt for each article.

SPECIAL POSTAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—The object of the Post Office in undertaking to obtain special acknowledgments is to afford the public an assurance on the part of the Post Office that the articles, for which these acknowledgments can be obtained, have reached the addressees.

ARTICLES FOR WHICH SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS CAN BE OBTAINED.—The articles for which acknowledgments can be obtained are registered letters and packets, and ordinary parcels. In the case of insured articles the Post Office always obtains an acknowledgment from the addressee for the sender.

POSTAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT FEE.—The fee for a special acknowledgment is one anna. It must be prepaid by postage stamps in the case of registered letters and packets, and in cash in the case of parcels.

POST-CARDS.

SPECIAL RULES AS TO ADDRESS, &c., OF POST-CARDS.—Nothing except the address may be written, printed or otherwise impressed on the face or stamped side of a post-card. No paper or other article may be attached to the card, and it may not be folded, cut or otherwise altered, though there is no objection to the stamp being perforated with initials for the prevention of theft. As an exception to this rule receipt or other adhesive stamps may be affixed to the back, or blank side, of inland post-cards.

PENALTY FOR BREACH OF RULES.—If any of the above rules should be infringed with regard to a post-card, it will be taxed on delivery with half an anna.

BOOK-PACKETS.

WHAT A BOOK PACKET MAY CONTAIN.—A book packet may contain:—

- (a) Any quantity of blank paper, parchment or card-board.
- (b) Books, whether blank or printed; newspapers and publications of all kinds; engravings, photographs, drawings, plans, maps, printed music and proof sheets, with or without the manuscript relating thereto.

- (c) And generally anything printed, engraved, lithographed or papyrographed on paper, parchment or card-board.

With the above articles may be sent any legitimate binding, mounting or covering, loose or attached, and anything that ordinarily appertains to such articles, as pens and pencils in the case of a pocket-book, photographs in the case of a photograph book, card plates in the case of visiting cards, &c. But no written communication of the nature of a letter, or having the character of a personal communication, may be enclosed with these articles or written upon them: this however does not exclude inscriptions or entries stating who the sender is or to whom the articles are to be given.

- (d) Business papers, written or drawn wholly or partly by hand, not being of the nature of a letter or having the character of a personal communication, such as deeds, bills of lading, invoices, accounts, &c.

- (e) Manuscript of all kinds, including manuscript music, not being of the nature of a letter or having the character of a personal communication. Manuscript sent to a newspaper for publication may also be sent as a book-packet even when it has the form and character of personal correspondence.

With any of the above-mentioned articles may be sent anything that is necessary for their safe transmission through the post, such as rollers, &c.

CONDITIONS AS TO SIZE.—A book packet may not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth; there is no express limit as to weight.

CONDITIONS AS TO PACKING.—A book packet must be posted either without a cover, or with a cover open at both ends, so as to admit of a ready examination of its contents.

PATTERN PACKETS.

CONTENTS OF PATTERN PACKETS.—Pattern Packets may only contain bona fide trade patterns or samples of merchandise which must not possess any saleable value.

CONDITIONS AS TO SIZE AND WEIGHT.—The size of a pattern packet must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth; and in weight it must not exceed forty tolas.

CONDITIONS AS TO PACKING.—A pattern packet must be posted either without a cover, or with a cover open at both ends so as to admit of a ready examination of its contents. An exception to this rule is made in favor of samples of seeds, drugs, and other articles which cannot be sent in open covers: such samples may be sent enclosed in boxes or bags, so long as they are fastened in such a way that they can be easily opened. They may also be sent in air-tight cases when necessary, provided that the nature of the contents is certified on the cover under the full signature and address of the sender.

PARCELS.

POST OFFICES FROM AND TO WHICH THEY MAY BE SENT.—Value-payable articles can be posted at any Post Office that is a Money Order Office (except Aden and Zanzibar) for transmission to any other Post Office that is a Money Order Office (except Aden and Zanzibar). All Post Offices that are Money Order Offices are distinguished in the list of Post Offices at the end of the Postal Guide by the letters "M.O." opposite their names.

TRANSMISSION OF MONEY ORDERS.—A remitter has nothing to do with transmission of the money order applied for by him, the Post Office undertaking the entire work of transmitting the money order. All that a remitter has to do after receiving a receipt for his application, is to await the receipt of an acknowledgment of delivery of the money order, or to represent to the Post Office any undue delay in the receipt of his acknowledgment.

INDIA POSTAL NOTES.

Note.—The following rules regarding Postal Notes will not come into force until the 1st January 1883.

DEFINITION OF TERM "POSTAL NOTE."—A "Postal Note" is a note granted by the Post Office for the payment of a certain sum of money on presentation of the note.

DEFINITION OF TERM "PURCHASER."—The "Purchaser" of a postal note is the person who buys it from the Post Office.

DEFINITION OF TERM "PAYER."—The "Payer" of a postal note is the person to whom it is payable.

POST OFFICES AUTHORIZED TO ISSUE POSTAL NOTES.—All Post Offices are authorized to issue postal notes; the notes will always be procurable at a Head Post Office and generally at any Post Office.

1 0	Red.	1 0 6

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PURCHASER.—The purchaser of a postal note should, before parting with it, enter on the reverse the payee's name and address: the purchaser should further keep a record of the number and date of the note and of the name of the Head Post Office of issue, so as to facilitate enquiry in case of loss.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANKS.

WHERE AND WHEN DEPOSITS MAY BE MADE.—Post Office Savings Banks are established at almost all Post Offices that are Money Order Offices (except those in the Bombay Presidency), and are open to receive deposits daily, with the exception of Sundays, and Post Office holidays, from noon till 4 p. m.

WHO MAY DEPOSIT.—WHAT GOVERNMENT PROMISES TO DO WITH REGARD TO DEPOSITS.—At these Banks any person (man, woman or child) may deposit money. No sum less than four annas, and no sum that is not a multiple of four annas, can be received: no one is allowed (except in the case of Public Accounts) to deposit more than Rs. 500 in all in the year. Government promises to repay the money, with interest, to the person depositing it in his or her own name, whether man, woman or child. Parents and other relatives can also deposit money on behalf of minors, that is of persons who have not completed the age of 18 years, but Government will not pay this money during the minority of the minors to any one except their legal guardians.

INTEREST ON DEPOSITS HOW CALCULATED AND PAID.—Interest is allowed, until further orders, at the rate of one pie, or three pies, a month on every complete sum of five rupees. It will be calculated on one lowest balance at the credit of an account between the close of the 4th day and the end of a month. The amount of interest will be added to each account once a year after the 31st March.

DECLARATION ON MAKING A FIRST DEPOSIT.—On making a first deposit the intending depositor must state his name, occupation and residence: if a native he must also give his father's name and caste. He must then sign the following declaration, or, should he be unable to write, add his mark or seal to it at the post office in the presence of a witness who will attest it with his signature:—

Form of declaration.

I hereby declare that the Post Office Savings Banks Rules have been read ^{by me}_{to me} and that I accept them as binding upon me. I further declare that I have no account in my own name at any post Office Savings Banks.

Depositor.

DEPOSITOR'S PASS-BOOK—ITS USE AND IMPORTANCE.—A pass book will be given to every depositor free of charge when he makes his first deposit. This book will show, in the vernacular of the district, or in English, as the depositor may wish, the number of his account, with the name of the office from which the book is issued, his own name, occupation and residence. Money cannot be paid in or taken out without the production of this book, and the Post Master will enter in it every sum of money paid in or taken out, strike the balance on each occasion, and sign the entry and stamp it with the office stamp. The depositor must present the Pass-book after the 31st March of each year, in order that the interest due may be added to the principal in the book, and he must always carefully examine the entries made in his book before leaving the office. On no occasion should he allow the Pass-book to remain at the Post Office, unless his account is finally closed. The Pass-book is his private property and must be kept carefully in his own hands. Should he lose the book or allow it to be spoilt, he will have to pay one rupee for a fresh book.

HOW TO MAKE SUBSEQUENT DEPOSITS.—DEPOSITOR AT SUB POST OFFICE ENTITLED TO SPECIAL RECEIPT.—When a depositor wishes to deposit money after the first time, all that he has to do is to send or present the money with his book at the Post Office. If this money be paid in at a Sub Post Office, the depositor will receive, in addition to the receipt in the book, an acknowledgment by post from the Head Office. If this acknowledgment should not reach him, or if it should have any corrections in it, or should not tally with the entry in the book, he must write to the Post Master at the Head Post Office, the name of which is in his book, and should renew his application again and again until he receives a satisfactory reply.

HOW TO WITHDRAW MONEY.—A depositor may withdraw money once a week, the sum withdrawn must not be less than four annas, or a sum that is not a multiple of four annas. He must make an application on a printed form, which he can obtain at the Post Office. If he can write, he can sign the form and send it to the Post Office with his Pass-book. If he cannot write, he must attend the Post Office and affix his mark or seal to the form, to be attested by the signature of a witness. Payment will then be made to the depositor or to the person presenting the signed application and Pass-book, and his receipt taken, in all cases without a receipt stamp, on the order for payment. At a Sub-Post Office payment cannot be made until an order of payment is received from the Head Post Office. The depositor will be told on what day to come for the money, and on that day payment will be made, as above, to the person presenting his Pass-Book. If a depositor wishes to withdraw the whole of his money, he must follow the same procedure.

HOW TO TRANSFER DEPOSITS.—A depositor can transfer his deposit, without charge to any other Post Office that is a Savings Bank. If he should wish to transfer his account, he must present his Pass-Book at the Post Office, or he can send a written application asking for the transfer with his Pass-Book. The Pass-Book will be retained by the Post Master, and a receipt given to him showing the amount at his credit. On presenting this receipt at the Post office to which his account is transferred, he will receive a new Pass-book free of charge. A depositor in a District Savings Bank may, by application to the local Treasury, have his account transferred free of charge to any Post Office Savings Bank.

HOW DEPOSITOR CAN OBTAIN FURTHER INFORMATION.—If any further information be required on any point connected with the Post Office Savings Banks, detailed rules will be found in the Postal Guide or can be seen at any Post Office.

POST OFFICE OFFICIALS BOUND TO SECRECY.—The officers of the post office are not allowed to disclose the name of any depositor, or the amount deposited or withdrawn by him, to any one not belonging to the Postal Department.

RULES

Regarding the Unjel Department of the Travancore Government published for general information.

The attention of the public is invited to the following Unjel rules:—

It will be seen that they afford greater facilities for communication by the Unjel than the public have hitherto enjoyed.

The principal changes introduced by the rules are,

(1) That the postage on letters is assimilated as far as possible to the rates in British India.

(2) That the rates on book packets have been reduced to one half the former Unjel rates in conformity with the British rates.

(3) That the system of transmitting pattern packets on payment at the British rates is newly introduced for the convenience of the public in general and of traders in particular.

(4) That the registration fee on each letter has been reduced from 6 to 3 Chackrams.

(5) That book or pattern packets may be registered on payment of the still smaller fee of 3 Chackrams which is somewhat less also than even the British rate of 2 annas.

(6) That the Unjel department now undertakes to procure from the addressee an acknowledgment of receipt for registered articles, on payment of a fee of two Chackrams the British rate being 1 anna.

(7) That proof sheets and Press manuscripts may hereafter be sent by book post which is a cheaper medium than letter post, and

(8) That complaints against the Unjel office shall be carried free hereafter.

It is to be hoped that with these increased facilities afforded by the new rules, the Unjel will be more largely and generally availed of than it is at present.

LETTERS.

1. Letters weighing up to 20 Tolahs whether paid or service shall be sent by letter mail, and those exceeding that weight by the slower Banghy mail, but letters of an emergent character though weighing above 20 Tolahs may nevertheless be sent by letter mail, provided the charges are paid at letter rates in the case of private covers and provided the words "emergent" and by "letter mail" are written on the cover in the case of official letters.

SERVICE LETTERS.

2. Heads of offices and departments are required to pay particular attention to the proper superscription of service letters &c. sent through the Sirkar Unjel. A specimen form of address is given in Office of the Trevandrum Division Peishcar the margin. If the cially authorized by him in writing for the purpose, they will be treated as private covers and charged at the prepaid rates.

3. The officer authorized as aforesaid to sign the cover, must enter in full his official designation, in order that his individual responsibility may be enforced in cases of doubt or fraud.

4. Government officers are bound to receive all service letters &c. addressed to them, paying any charge which may be made by the Unjel office on account of any irregularity or incompleteness of the address or signature.

5. The postage thus charged by the Unjel Department will be paid by the official to whom such cover is addressed; the addressee will, in due course, apply to the official from whose office the cover was despatched for the postage paid by him forwarding the cover as a voucher for the amount. The officer to whom such application has been made will use his discretion in recovering the postage from the person or persons in fault.

6. Letters sent by Government officers in their official capacity which relate nevertheless to the private interests and concerns of the individuals addressed, should be addressed according to the specimen form given in the margin under the full signature and official designation of the Trevandrum Division Peishcar of the person by

14. Letters containing a currency note or any portion thereof, postage or other stamps, cheques, bundi, bank note, bill of exchange or the like must be sent registered. It is considered expedient for the safety of currency notes in transit, that they should be sent in halves.

15. The sender of a registered letter is required to see that it is enclosed in a cover or envelope of a substantial kind fastened in a secure manner. Sealing-wax with a distinct impression (other than that of the current coin) is recommended for fastening the cover instead of or in addition to any other means of fastening.

20. Proof sheets, marked as such on the outside under the signature of the sender, may be transmitted by book post.

26. The sender can claim a receipt from the Unjel office for a parcel only if it is packed according to the instructions given above and no separate fee will be charged for the receipt.

27. If the sender desires to obtain an acknowledgment from the addressee, he must prepay the acknowledgment postage 2 Chackrams independently of the parcel postage.

MISCELLANEOUS.

28. Letters &c. must be posted at least half an hour before the time fixed for the closing of the mail. Letters and parcels intended for any mail will not be despatched by that mail unless presented half an hour before it is closed. In no case will they be received during the hours of despatch or receipt of mails.

30. Registered letters and parcels (whether paid or service) will be delivered only to the addressees in the absence of written instructions from them to the local Unjel masters. Heads of offices and departments are therefore desired to make the necessary arrangements either to receive service registered letters and parcels themselves, or authorize the local Unjel Master to deliver them to any one whom they may authorize for that purpose.

31. Unjel peons are forbidden to deliver any letter or other article without requiring immediate payment of the amount due or to deliver any registered letter or parcel without requiring the immediate signature of the receipt and acknowledgment.

32. Unjel peons are not bound to give change. If the amount charged is not at once tendered, or if the receipts or acknowledgments are not at once signed and the Unjel peons are subjected to detention, the letters &c. shall be taken back to the Unjel office for the next delivery.

33. Whatever postage is marked on a letter or other articles must be paid at once on delivery, after which, any complaint of overcharge may be made and will be duly attended to.

34. In all complaints of overcharge or unnecessary delay in delivering letters &c., the covers or envelopes bearing the Unjel Stamps must be presented for inspection.

35. Complaints against the Unjel office, certified as such under the full signature of the sender and addressed to the Unjel Superintendent, are not chargeable with postage.

36. Since Unjel peons cannot deviate on any account from their regular course of delivery in their respective beats, persons residing far away from the Unjel offices if desirous of obtaining their letters &c. immediately on arrival of the mail, must send their own authorized messengers to the Unjel office to whom all covers, except those for which receipts are required will be delivered.

37. Unclaimed letters &c. will be detained at the office of destination for 3 weeks, of which fact due notice will be given by the Unjel Master at every station, and after that period, they will be returned to the office of despatch for delivery to the sender.

38. Refused letters &c. will be immediately returned to the office of despatch for delivery to the senders, who will be required to pay any postage which may be due thereon.

39. It is forbidden to send by Unjel explosive, dangerous or offensive substances or material such as gun-powder, matches, percussion caps, saltpetre, indigo, glass, liquids, &c. or any article which either in itself (however packed) or by reason of insecure packing may be liable to injure the contents of the mail bags or the person of the Unjel officers.

40. No address is complete which does not contain the Unjel station from which delivery is intended and care should always be taken to write the name of the Unjel station as clearly as possible.

41. Persons changing their place of residence are particularly required to leave written instructions at the Unjel office of their previous residence and to send written instructions to the Unjel office of the place to which they may be going.

42. The Unjel Master at any station or the person in charge of the Unjel office has power to refuse letters or other articles bearing the appearance of having been opened and reclosed or otherwise improperly dealt with unless the writer or sender thereof shall attest with his full signature that they were sent in that state. The refusal will be absolute in the case of registered letters and parcels.

43. Persons not belonging to the department shall not be admitted into the interior, nor permitted to examine the records, of any Unjel office without the special permission of the Dewan, to whom or to the Unjel Superintendent application for information or redress must be made either in person or in writing by the party requiring the same.

I. The Sirkar Transit is a Temporary Establishment, and is laid between Trevandrum and Shoranoor, a distance of 195 miles.

II. It thus connects the Capital with the Madras Railway.

III. It is mainly intended for the convenience of the public.

IV. The distance of 41 miles from Shoranoor to Karuvapadantha is done by bullock carts with posted bullocks. The rest of the journey is all by canoe.

V. The Comptrolling Officer is the Superintendent of the Native Post (Unjel.)

VI. Rules concerning the public are as follows:—

“PASSENGERS.”

1. No passenger is allowed to take his seat in any boat or carriage.
* Table I. used for the Transit, without having paid his fare*.
2. On payment of the fare, Tickets are issued to passengers, who are required to show them to the Transit servants when demanded, and to deliver up to them before leaving the Transit.
3. Passengers not producing or delivering up their Tickets will be charged the fare from the place whence the Transit originally started.
4. Tickets are available only on the day of issue, except on special occasions.
5. The Tickets cannot be transferred.
6. Tickets having been issued the fare will not be refunded on any account.
7. Every person attempting to defraud the Government by endeavouring to evade the payment of his fare will be committed to the Magistracy.
8. No smoking is allowed in the boat, carriage or station.
9. Any passenger found intoxicated, committing a nuisance, or wilfully interfering with the comfort of other passengers will be liable to removal from the premises and to forfeiture of his fare.
10. Passengers should not carry dangerous goods in the Transit.
11. Any person found with dangerous goods in his possession will be removed from the premises and will forfeit his fare, in addition to his being responsible for any loss or damage caused by such goods.
12. More than ten passengers are not booked in a single boat or more than eight in a carriage.
13. Any person can carry a child under 3 years of age without paying a separate fare; for every additional child, he shall pay $\frac{1}{2}$ of the fare and get a separate Ticket.

14. Children above 3 and not exceeding 10 years of age are conveyed at half fares.

15. No pass will be given to lunatics, or persons suffering from contagious or loathsome diseases, or persons in a dying condition. If it is found that Tickets have been obtained for such persons by misrepresentation, such Tickets will be forfeited and the holders not allowed to enter the Transit.

16. On payment of the fare charged for 10 persons,* a single passenger† or group of passengers, not consisting of more than 10 individuals, can engage the Transit for the whole or any portion of the line. Seats for the guard and the pay-distributing officer will, however, be reserved.

17. In such cases, previous notice should be given to the respective Transit-Masters as under,

	At Travandrum, before 9 A. M.
	At Shoranoor, do. do.

† Table IV.	At intermediate stations, 4 hours previous to the arrival of the Transit.†
-------------	--

18. Any passenger can carry his baggage, not weighing more than 300 Tolas, "free"; all luggage weighing more than 300 Tolas will be charged for the excess at the rate mentioned in Table II.

19. Passengers may carry with them a pet cat or a pet dog, free of charge. But no monkeys or troublesome cats or dogs, or snakes, will be allowed to be carried in the Transit on any account.

20. Passengers shall not carry dutiable goods in the Transit, and shall declare to the respective Transit-Masters that they carry no dutiable goods.

21. Any passenger found with dutiable goods in his possession, will be committed to the Magistracy. The goods will be sold by public auction, and the proceeds appropriated to the Government.

22. To insure being booked, passengers should be at the respective stations 30 minutes before the departure of the transit.‡

‡ Table IV.

PARCELS.

23. Big and heavy parcels as well as small ones will be received* and booked at all stations, provided the space required for them in the boat is available. A whole boat, however, cannot be loaded with parcels. It is compulsory, that the place of destination of parcels should be one where there is a Transit station.

* Table III.

24. Charges for parcels,† can be paid, either at the booking station or the station where they are to be delivered.

† Table I.

25. Receipt Notes will be given for all parcels, which notes the consignors are required to forward with advice to consignees.

These receipts should be given up duly signed by the consignees or other agents, at the delivery station before the parcels are delivered to them.

26. Parcels, charges of which are due, will be delivered over to the owners, only on payment of all dues.

† Table III.

27. The Government undertakes to deliver the parcels only at the stations.†

28. On payment of charges for carrying, parcels will be caused to be delivered at the place, where the owners desire, when practicable.

29. Parcels containing perishable articles, will only be carried at "owner's risk" and must be prepaid.

30. The Government will not be answerable for any loss, damage or delay of parcels, caused by accidents.

31. Losses, damages or delays of parcels, found to be occasioned by negligence or want of due attention on the part of any Transit servants, will be duly enquired into and compensated, as far as may be practicable, at the cost of such servants and not otherwise.

32. Address of parcels should invariably be in the Vernacular of this country, and should be written in distinct characters.

33. The address should also contain a statement, showing the general character of the contents.

34. To ensure safe delivery, parcels should be carefully made up in wax cloth, leather, or such other water-proof materials and should be sealed.

35. Dutiable parcels will not be accepted for transmission; and it must be distinctly stated in the address, that the parcels contain no dutiable goods.

36. Transit-Masters are empowered to examine, in the presence of the owner or his agent, any package which they reasonably suspect to contain goods in contravention of the rules.

37. Contraband goods, found in any package will be confiscated by the Sircar, and the party concerned will be sent to the Magistracy.

38. Dangerous parcels will not be received for booking.

39. Jewellery, precious stones, silver and gold coins, &c. cannot be conveyed by the Transit.

40. Consignees are required to take charge of their parcels within 5 days after their arrival at the station; if they are not so taken charge of, the respective Transit-Masters will issue a notice to the owners, in which will be mentioned among other particulars, the date within which the owners are required to take charge of them and the procedure that will be adopted for disposing of the parcels, on the owner's failing to accept them within the notified date.

VII. Rates of charge and the time for despatching the Transit from different stations, are liable to be modified or altered at any time.

VIII. All instances of incivility, want of due attention, or any other irregularity on the part of the Transit servants, may be reported to the Head office in the first instance.

IX. Further particulars can be obtained from the Head office at the Huzur Cutcherry.

DIRECTIONS FOR VESSELS ARRIVING AT ALLEPPEY.

1. The Commanders of ships are requested on the arrival of their vessels to deliver into the Master Attendant's office a true and complete manifest of all the goods and merchandise laden on board of their vessels. A form of the manifest required will be furnished for their guidance on application. Previous to any ship or vessel having any transaction with the shore, the Pass, Register and every other credential concerning their ship or vessel, must be delivered into the Master Attendant's office. If the ship or vessel be in ballast, it is to be reported accordingly.

2. Goods landed, or attempted to be landed before the ship is regularly entered, or which have not been entered in the manifest shall be charged double duty. The same is applicable to goods exported under similar circumstances.

3. Applications for Port Clearances should be made between 10 o'clock A. M. and 1 P. M. the day previous to sailing, to enable them to be granted by 4 o'clock, after which hour a fee of 5 Rs. will have to be paid to the writer of such port clearances on every occasion in accordance with para 35 of the Customs Rules. Applicants for Port Clearances should furnish the Custom House with an export manifest of all cargo shipped on board their vessels from this port, specifying the names of the vessels and Commanders, sorts of goods, marks and numbers, quantity or weight, shipper's and consignee's names and the names of the port or ports bound to.

4. Port clearances will not be granted to vessels until all demands on account of boat hire, &c. had been adjusted.

5. No shore boats are permitted to put off to the shipping after sun-set unless in case of emergency, and by special permission of the Master Attendant.

6. Commanders of ships are strictly prohibited from throwing any ballast overboard in the roads. Boats for the purpose of landing the same will be supplied on application.

J. ROHDE,
Master Attendant Alleppey.

DIRECTIONS FOR SHIPS BOUND FROM THE SOUTHWARD, THE BAY OF BENGAL, OR COROMANDEL COAST TO ALLEPPEY IN THE S. W. MONSOON.

Ships bound to Alleppey, from any of the above mentioned places in the S. W. Monsoon, should follow the directions given by Horsburgh, for, "Ships bound from the Bay of Bengal, to Bombay, or other places to the westward, during the S. W. Monsoon."

Having crossed the Equator well to the westward of the Maladive Islands (68°E) a ship should steer North until in the Latitude of 9°30'. She should then run due East for Alleppey, making an allowance for a 3 knot southerly current after passing the parallel of Kalpeny Island.

Alleppey Flagstaff is in Latitude 9° 29' 48" N. and Longitude 76° 18' 45" E. by Lieut. Selby of the Indian Navy measured from Bombay—The Trigonometrical survey places it in Longitude 76° 23' E. The anchorage in the roads during the S. W. Monsoon is with the Light House from N. E. to E. N. E. in five or 6 fathoms water. In the fair season from October to May, vessels may anchor in 3 or 4 fathoms with the Light house bearing E.—the soundings are very regular.

A mud bank has formed, and vessels have anchored off the port in 4 fathoms of water and loaded and discharged during the last South-West Monsoon in perfect safety.

Ships from Colombo or Tuticorin bound for Alleppey in the S. W. Monsoon should, on leaving Colombo roads, be in good sailing trim, and have good sails bent and be prepared to encounter bad weather.

From Colombo roads, a W. N. Westerly course should be steered close hauled for the Coast of Tinnevely. Should the wind have sufficient southing in it, advantage should be taken of it to round Cape Comorin well to the southward. After rounding which, it often happens that a ship will carry the southerly wind all the way up the coast; at all events, a ship which sails moderately well by the wind, after having rounded Cape Comorin will always be able to make the passage to Alleppey or Cochin in 8 or 10 days, there being often a favourable current along the coast to the northward with very often a slant of wind from the south, and a ship having good sails bent and taking every advantage of the shifts of wind will be able to make a much better passage and with less wear and tear than by the Southern route.

A large ship coming from the northward ought not to come under 7 fathoms if drawing much water, until the Flagstaff or Light House bears to the Eastward of S. E. as there are some shoal patches with only 4 fathoms on, in shore of these soundings. In like manner, vessels coming from the southward should attend carefully to the lead when in with the land, and not come under 13 fathoms off Quilon, which is the depth close to this dangerous reef: to the northward of Quilon reef, the coast may be approached to 7 fathoms.

Alleppey may be known from the offing by its Light House erected close to the Flagstaff, the light from which was first exhibited on the night of the 28th March 1862. The light is of the holophotal description, and is kept burning every night, from the departure of daylight to the return of the same in the morning. It is revolving, producing a bright flash once in every minute and is visible in ordinary weather 20 miles.

Ships may procure water from a well at the beach, and good vegetables and fruits can also be obtained generally in abundance. Fish is plentiful, and of the best description and variety, and other supplies equally abundant.

In the N. E. Monsoon or fair season from November to April the weather is favourable for proceeding to or from Colombo. The N. E. Monsoon sets in about the end of October or beginning of November, generally with thunder, lightning and heavy rain from the land for a few evenings—by the end of November the weather is fine, with regular land and sea breezes all along the Malabar Coast. The land wind off Quilon blows with considerable force usually setting in about 10 P. M. continuing during the night and up to 10 or 11 A. M. when it dies away, and is followed by the sea breeze, from W. to N. W. veering to north until the evening.

KUNYACOMAREE or CAPE COMORIN by the great Trigonometrical Survey is in Lat. $8^{\circ} 4' N.$ Long. $77^{\circ} 36' 45'' E.$ Lieuts. Hethersay, Povel and Selby, late Indian Navy and Mr. Franklin R. N., place it 4 miles further westward viz: $77^{\circ} 32' 30'' E.$ It is high water at the Cape on full and change 0.30 P. M. The Cape is low, to the S. E. of the point and within a mile of it, is a high rock with two others adjoining on which the sea breaks. Near the point to the westward is a pagoda and a little to the westward of it is the Residency Bungalow. About 4 miles N. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. from the Cape stands a High Conical Hill, which is the first land seen in coming from the southward, and is the most southern of the Ghaut Mountains. The Coast is safe to approach to 10 fathoms. There is generally a high surf breaking along the beach but in coasting along, it is better not to come under 22 fathoms which is the depth about 5 miles off shore particularly during the night and when in the vicinity of the Crocodile Rock.

West a little northerly from Cape Comorin distance 16 miles, lies the Crocodile Rock upon which the sea does not always break being covered at high water—it has 16 and 17 fathoms close to.

CUDDEAPUTNUM POINT bears from the Rock N. E. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. distance 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles. Adunda Islet on the same bearing, distance 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles and Kotah Islet N. by W. $\frac{1}{2}$ W. a little over 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles. There is a safe passage between the Crocodile Rock and these Islets, by keeping rather closer to the Crocodile. There is also a passage between these Islets and Cuddeaputnum Point, but a good look-out should be kept from the masthead in passing through either, as the Crocodile and the dangers in the inner passage cannot be seen from the deck at high water. The Crocodile is in Lat. $8^{\circ} 5' 30''$ N. Long. $77^{\circ} 16' 20''$ E. Cuddeaputnum Point is steep and like the neighbouring shore has a red appearance. The square masonry column on which a light was formerly erected has now been replaced by an octagon grey granite column carrying a fixed white Dioptric light.

COLACHEL or COLACHEL Toray five miles N. W. from Cuddeaputnum Point is the rising Port of Colachel; there is a Church and a Flagstaff on the beach, Lat. $8^{\circ} 10' 45''$ N. Long. $77^{\circ} 13' 30''$ E. The anchorage in the roads is in from 8 to 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms. Four small Islets near the beach afford shelter to the cargo boats shipping Coffee or other produce, a ship therefore calling here to load, should anchor to leeward, so as to give the boats the greatest facility for reaching the ship with their cargo dry. A red Buoy marks a rock on which one of the steamers swung shortly after coming to an anchor, to load coffee in 1873, but it is inside the foul ground line as laid down in Capt. Selby's chart of this coast and it is the latest survey 1850 and 51. It is possible that steamers could find a safe anchorage inside of the rocks above water off this port. This could be easily ascertained by having the ground carefully swept in order to ascertain whether there is foul ground inside of them, and in the passage north of them, also if a safe entrance is to be found to the southward of them. If the examination is favourable and there is sufficient room for a steamer to swing round when inside, the advantage to Government and all concerned will be complete. The gap between the two rocks could at little cost be filled up with Beaton if necessary. If there should not be room to swing, the ground being otherwise free of rocks, it would only be a question of moorings head and stern. Ships' boats should never attempt to land on any part of the coast from Cape Comorin up to Quilon as there is at all times a heavy surf on the beach.

TENGAPUTNUM—About 5 miles N. W. by W. from Colachel is the town of Tengaputnum Lat. $8^{\circ} 13' 30''$ Long. $77^{\circ} 10'$ E. Off the mouth of the river (south of it) is the Island of Innevelpanpar or Eniam having a church and other buildings on it—there are 3 other Islets with rocks above and under water near to it. The river is navigable for boats in the rainy season from June to October for some distance inland. A considerable trade, principally in saltfish, is carried on from this place and other villages along the coast with Ceylon.

Covalum or Ruttra Point in the charts, is higher than the adjoining low land, from which it runs up terminating in a high Bluff. There is a small Bungalow on the top of it which may be seen in passing.

The coast between Tengaputnum and this is bold to approach having 18 to 20 fathoms 2 miles off shore.

TRIVANDRUM or THEKOVANATHAPOORUM. The seat of the Government and Capital of the Kingdom of Travancore is about 2½ miles East from Shungoomoogum on the sea beach. The Fort cannot be seen from the sea, but a Flagstaff* stands about the centre of it opposite the palace, another further to N. E. is at the British Residency; on a Hill to the north of the Fort stands the Observatory and can be distinctly made out in passing by its three Domes. Very few public Observatories in Europe have been so well found in Instruments and all by the most celebrated makers. It is in Lat. $8^{\circ} 30' 55''$ N. and Long. $76^{\circ} 45' 15''$ E. The country around is extremely beautiful and variegated. East from Trevandrum about 7 miles is a remarkable round Conical Hill called Namuin, or Bringall Hill in the charts, and forms a good mark for this part of the coast being easily distinguished from the other Hills lying like it, between the Ghauts and the coast. The Ghauts here are very high rising over 6,000 feet.

ANJENGO or UNCHEE TYSKKE. The Fort is Lat. $8^{\circ} 39' 40''$ N. and Long. $76^{\circ} 45' 15''$ E—once a place of considerable importance and the earliest settlement of the late Hon'ble East India Company on the Malabar Coast. Orme the Historian was born here, and here resided Elizabeth Draper to whom Sterne addressed his letter to Eliza. The first British Resident to the Court of Travancore, John Toller, died and was buried here in 1777. The Fort was deserted some time prior to the commencement of the present century, the lower mast of the old Flagstaff still stands on the North Western angle of the Fort. The town is to the North of it, and a large Roman Catholic Church with some ancient monuments principally Dutch; but the place has a forsaken appearance. It is not easily distinguished from the offing, being hid by coconut trees. There is generally a heavy surf rolling in on the shore, and the place offers no inducement for a ship to anchor, fresh water not being procurable, and the anchorage inside of 10 fathoms foul and rocky.

WURKULLA. Immediately to the North of the Anjengo River rises the Warkulla Cliff to about 200 feet, extending along the coast to the northward 6 miles. From thence an inland navigable water communication extends by means of canals, the large estuaries at Quilon, Alleppey and Cochin, up to Chowghaut a distance of over 130 miles, and at a trifling cost could be made so to the Madras Railway Station at Tiroor 18 miles distant; as during the S. W. Monsoon cargo boats go to that point on the Madras Railway. The Warkulla Cliffs are now tunnelled through, and connect this water communication with Trevandrum from whence there is a canal to Warkulla, being for the most part a natural Backwater and separated from the sea by a sand bank varying from a few yards to 5 miles in breadth, and upon which all the Sea Port Towns of the coast are situated. The estuaries too, carry considerable depths throughout and in many parts reach far inland, into which all the watershed of the country is received the rivers being more or less navigable for considerable distances inland. Travancore has thus rare natural facilities to the development of her wealth and commerce which few other countries possess, and no system of Railways could attain to.

QUILON. The Flagstaff in Latitude $8^{\circ} 53' 30''$ N. Long. $76^{\circ} 36''$ E. by Lieut. Taylor I. N., a place of considerable importance in the time of the Portuguese and Dutch, and also during the Honorable East India Company's Government of India. A considerable Military force was kept up here until 1832, when the station was reduced to one Regiment. It exported a considerable quantity of cloth and indigo, but this branch of industry, and the general trade of the place has much fallen off. The point near the Flagstaff runs out a little in the sea, and is higher than the coast north and south of it. S. E. of the point, two Buoys, one red and the other black with Staves and Baskets are placed during the fine weather viz; 15th October to 15th May to show the safe channel between the Rocks. Vessels should keep well out until Factory Chimney bears N. E. then head for same between the Buoys and anchor in 4½ to 5 fathoms when Tangacheri outer point bears W. N. W. When the Buoys are lifted, vessels should anchor with Flagstaff N. to W. by E. in 8 to 10 fathoms. A small flagstaff 7½ feet in height, has been erected close to the Factory Chimney for signalling to vessels in port, the old flagstaff at Tangacheri being too distant for quick communication.

Great caution is necessary in approaching this part of the coast, as an extensive reef and detached rocks stretch from the south of the point 3 miles to seaward and 7 miles north to Iverker or Ibic River. A ship therefore in passing or working along the coast should keep the lead going, and not come under 12 fathoms, as that is the depth close to this dangerous reef. With a fair wind and not bound to any part of the coast, 22 to 23 fathoms would be prudent sounding to preserve from Cape Comorin to the North of the Quilon reef, as these soundings will carry a ship well clear of the Crocodile Rock. A light house is erected on Cadea Patnam Point to mark the vicinity of the Crocodile danger, but "the Lead, Latitude and Look out" should never be relaxed, particularly in the vicinity of dangers and when standing in for the land.

The ship "Lady Hodgkinson" from England bound to Bombay with Troops and a valuable cargo, on the forenoon of the 22nd of December 1858 (the finest month in the year) while standing along shore to the northward to the land wind and smooth water, ran on the inside of the Quilon reef and became a total wreck. It was said a leadsmen was in the chains, if so, the lead must have been over-hove, as the ship was not more than 300 yards from the shore and for sometime in little more than her own draft of water.

The coast from Irika River north to Alleppey is fringed with coconut trees and is safe to approach to 7 and 8 fathoms 3 or 4 miles off shore.

PORCAUT. Porcaut and in the old charts Porca is in Lat. 9° 21' 35" N. Long. 76° 23' E;—was a place of considerable importance in the time of the Portuguese and afterwards of the Dutch. The factory was washed away by the sea in 1742, a canal running with a few yards of the beach connects the place with the Backwater. The smooth water has now shifted to Tortapully and a new mud bank has formed off Alleppey.

CHITRICAUD, a village 3½ miles north from Alleppey Lat. 9° 32' 33" North Long. 76° 23' 10" East, is at the Northern limit of an extent of smooth water which has been observed forming for several Monsoons, presenting the same general features as that now at Porcaut. To the southward of the village, the sea breaks in 3 to 6 fathoms in shore of which it is calm with a soft bottom. From a remote period, Alleppey has been known to Navigators as a natural harbour of refuge, and the following account of it is extracted from Penkerton's East Indies. "Capt. Cope says 'Mud Bay is a place that I believe few can 'parallel in the world. It lies on the shore of St. Andrews about half

'a league out in the sea, and is open to the wide ocean and has neither
'Island nor Bank to break off the force of the billows, which come
'rolling with great violence in all other parts of the coast, in the South
'West Monsoon, but on the Bank of Mud, lose themselves in a mo-
'ment, and ships lie on it as secure as in the best harbour without mo'tion or disturbance."

In coming to an anchor the officer in charge should see that the anchor is clear and the chain stopped up clear of the stock, and to let go only after the ship has gathered good stern way. If the ship has put in in distress or is to remain any time, the whole cable should be given.

Severe gales of wind are liable to happen on the coast in April, May and June, also in October and November; a careful attention to the Barometer, particularly if the maximum and minimum pressure be daily registered, will always give sufficient warning of the approach of these storms, to enable ships on the coast or in Cochin roads to seek shelter at Narakal or on the Mud Bank off Alleppey. The S. W. Monsoon sets in at Alleppey generally in the beginning of June from N. W. and blows with great violence attended with thunder and lightning and rain. For some years back the Monsoons have not been so regular.

The maximum height of the Barometer at Alleppey occurs at 9-40 A. M. and P. M. and the minimum at 4 A. M. and 4-40 P. M.

The general direction of the wind during the S. W. Monsoon at Alleppey is from W. N. W. to N. W.

Master Attendant Alleppey.

CIRCULAR.

There being reason to believe that Pooliars and other humbler classes of the population still find difficulty in getting free access to the public Courts and Cutcheries and are not unfrequently obstructed in the use of the public highways and markets, His Highness' Government deem it necessary to call the attention of all public officers to an order issued from the Huzur on this subject on the 26th Panguai 1045, and to impress upon all concerned that the Courts and Cutcheries of the State and all public roads and market places are open alike to all classes of His Highness' subjects without distinction of creed or caste, and that no man shall be allowed to hinder another from the free use of them on any ground whatsoever, such hindrance being an unjustifiable interference with the liberty of the subject and calculated to defeat the impartial administration of justice.

Any public officer who may be found to deny free access to himself, on business, to any section of the population and who may not personally receive or hear petitions from any person or conduct investigations into cases in the presence and within the hearing of the parties concerned on the ground that such persons are of low caste, will be visited with the severest displeasure of Government.

RULES AND TARIFF FOR INLAND MESSAGES.

Rules and Tariff, relating to the transmission of Telegraph Messages, in India, sanctioned by the Governor-General of India in Council, with effect from the 1st December 1883.

GENERAL.

RULE I.—The accuracy of messages is not guaranteed, and the sender and receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors, or delays.

RULE II.—Telegraph Stations are divided into three classes viz :—

Class of Office.	General working hours* (local time.)	Special working hours (local time) on Sunday, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, and the Queen's Birthday.
I.	Day and night	Day and night.
II.	7 A.M. to 9 P.M.	7 to 9 A.M., and 4 to 9 P.M.
III.	10 A.M. to 6 P.M.	7 to 9 A.M., and 4 to 6 P.M.

Exception in favor of emergent telegrams signed by competent authority.

In cases of life and death, or of extraordinary emergency, a message countersigned by the Chief Civil or Military Authority at a Station, or by any of the Authorities empowered to "clear the line" (see Rule XL), can be sent from any Office at any time.

Messages should be legibly written.

RULE III.—Senders of messages are advised to write their messages in an unmistakable and distinct hand.

ACCEPTANCE OF MESSAGES FOR TRANSMISSION.

Acceptance of messages at Post Offices.

RULE IV.—Messages are accepted at all Post Offices. Where the Post Office is unconnected by wire the messages are despatched by first post "registered" to the nearest Telegraph Station without extra charge. Post Offices which accept and despatch messages by wire are called 'Combined Offices.' Post Offices unconnected by wire are called "Receiving Offices."

Limit to length of messages.

RULE V.—No message or messages of more than 500 words can be sent at any one time by any private individual or firm, and no second message by the same individual or firm till after the lapse of three hours, unless the lines be free and not required by any one else.

Messages must be in the Roman character, or Arabic figures.

RULE VI.—All messages must be legibly written in the Roman character or in Arabic figures: subject to the above limitation, mes-

* These hours are subject to modification to suit local requirements.

Messages translated for natives.

Form to be followed.

Verification of signature of private messages may be insisted upon.

Full address necessary.

Authentication of corrections necessary.

Messages sent by Post to Telegraph Stations for transmission.

Treatment of messages received by Post for transmission insufficiently stamped.

Messages addressed to non-Telegraph Stations.

sages may be sent in the vernacular, or any foreign language, or in cipher, if written in Arabic numerals.

At Telegraph and Post Offices in Station other than the Presidency Towns, every assistance possible is afforded to natives in the translation of messages into English and vice versa.

RULE VII.—The body of the message must be preceded by the address (as defined in Rule XVIII.) The true signature and address of the Sender must always be written at the foot of the message.

The Sender of a private message can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine.

RULE VIII.—The address must contain all the information necessary to ensure the delivery of the message at its destination, and the Sender in all cases suffers the consequences of insufficiency of address. After the message is once despatched, it can neither be cancelled, completed, nor rectified except, by the despatch of a fresh paid message.

RULE IX.—Every interlineation, reference, erasure, or alteration of words must be authenticated by the Sender of the message, or by his representative.

RULE X.—Messages from places where there is no Telegraph Station should be tendered at the local Post Office with cash or with postage stamps, in which case the Postmaster will grant a receipt for the amount, or they may at the option of the sender be addressed to the nearest Government Telegraph office by post registered, together with Telegraph or Postage stamps sufficient for their payment, in which case a Receipt for the amount will be posted free to the Sender.

In the case of a message sent by Post to a Telegraph Station with an insufficient number of stamps, the excess charge will be recovered from the addressee.

RULE XI.—Messages can be addressed to places where there are no Telegraph Stations. In such cases, the Sender must state (free) from what Telegraph office delivery is to be effected.

Example.—"To Sherghoty, Post Burhee." No charge will be made for ordinary Inland postage, or for registration, but postal registration is compulsory in the case of messages which have to be posted in India to places beyond Indian limits, and in such cases both the postage and registration fees* must be prepaid by the Sender.

"Bearing" messages.	RULE XII.—With the following exception, all charges for messages must be prepaid in cash or in stamps:— Messages are sent "bearing" from Sea-ports when received for despatch by mail steamers or other vessels, but no such message whether "prepaid" or "bearing" will be received for transmission until the name of the vessel has been made known. Bearing messages will not be delivered to the Addressee, until after payment has been obtained.
Use of Stamps.	RULE XIII.—All charges on telegrams tendered at Government Telegraph Offices are prepaid in Telegraph Stamps, which are procurable at every Treasury and every Government Telegraph Station.
Form of stamp provides a guarantee to the Sender and to Government.	Telegraph Stamps are double-headed, the object being that the upper half shall be returned on the Receipt (whereby the Sender receives a guarantee that his message has not been suppressed for the sake of the stamps), and the lower half shall be affixed to the message as voucher to Government that it has been prepaid.
Stamps to be properly affixed to the forms.	The Senders of messages should be careful to affix their telegraph stamps on the spaces left blank for the purpose on the message forms, the upper half on the Receipt, the lower half on the message , and to see that the stamps are defaced with the office stamp which bears the name of the station and the date.
Cut or defaced stamps cannot be received.	Telegraph stamps cut in two, before being sent into a Telegraph Office, or which are in any way defaced, discolored, or damaged, cannot be accepted. Application for the refund of the value of such stamps, accompanied by particulars of the way in which the stamps became damaged, may, however, be made to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, which will ordinarily comply with the application when no doubt exists that the damaged stamps are genuine, and that the damage was not caused intentionally.

Forms obtainable gratis at all stations.

Charges on State messages.

State messages take their turn for despatch with private urgent or deferred messages.

No unpaid messages to be despatched under penalty.

Objectionable messages to be refused acceptance.

Free address.

At "Combined Offices" (see Rule IV) telegrams can be prepaid in postage stamps.

Proper Forms on which to write messages are available gratis at all Telegraph Stations, and Post offices and Senders are requested to use these forms only.

RULE XIV.—State messages from all Public Functionaries must be paid for in cash or in stamps prior to despatch; the rates are the same for State messages as those charged to private individuals. This Rule will be relaxed in case of great emergency; whenever an urgent State message is tendered for despatch under this permission, the Sender must take the necessary steps to ascertain the charges on it, and pay them into the Telegraph office within 24 hours.

RULE XV. State messages not marked 'Urgent' will be treated as 'deferred' (see Rule XIX). They take their turn for despatch with 'urgent' and 'deferred' private messages according to the order in which they were tendered.

RULE XVI.—No unpaid messages, except those specified in the Departmental Regulations, shall on any account be transmitted. A violation of this rule will subject the Signaller or Telegraph Master in charge of the station from which a message is improperly despatched to dismissal from the public service.

RULE XVII.—Telegraph Masters are required to refuse to transmit a message which may be of a decidedly objectionable or alarming character. Should the character of a message be open to doubt, the matter shall be referred to a Secretary to Government, if the message be tendered at the seat of Government, or the Chief Civil or Military Officer, if at a Provincial station.

CHARGES.

RULE XVIII.—No charge is made for the transmission of the address.

The 'Address' includes names of stations from and to which the message is to be despatched, the bonâ fide names or designations* of the Sender and Addressee, and the latter's address. No other words can be transmitted unless paid for as part of the body of the message and the officers of the Telegraph Department are authorized to omit from the address any words which are not essential to the correct delivery of the message.

* Name and designation cannot both be admitted unless it would otherwise be obviously impossible for the Addressee to identify the Sender. A message can only be sent in the name of one individual or firm.

If the Sender of a message desire his own address to be telegraphed, it must be included in the body of the message, and paid for.

Messages despatched to and from Railway stations without extra charge.

No unusual abbreviations or combinations permitted.

RULE XX.—A message can be sent from any station of the Government Telegraph Department to any Railway Telegraph Station or vice versa, without additional charge.

APPLICATION OF CHARGES.

RULE XXI.—The maximum length of a word is fixed at six syllables; the excess is counted as a word.

RULE XXII.—Messages must not contain any unusual combinations, abbreviations, or constructions. Any word in common use, which, although requiring two words to express it, is generally recognised as one word, is charged as one word when so written; when the two parts are not joined by a hyphen or apostrophe, and when of or less than six syllables.

"Halfpenny," "Twopence," "Threepence," &c. up to "Elevenpence," when written as a single word, count as one word only. "F.O.B." and "C.F.I.," "A.M." "P.M." when written as separate letters, are each counted as two and three words, respectively but when written "Pob," "CB," "AM," "PM," as one word.

RULE XXIII.—Words joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

RULE XXIV.—Words separated by an apostrophe are counted as so many separate words. (This rule does not apply to nouns in the possessive case, as "General's," "Charles's," "Brother's" &c.)

RULE XXV.—Proper names of towns and persons, names of places, streets, ships, titles, Christian names, prefixes, and qualifications are counted for the number of words employed by the Sender to express them.

RULE XXVI.—Every isolated character, whether letter or figure, is counted as a word. The same applies to an underline.

RULE XXVII.—Signs of punctuation, hyphens, apostrophes, inverted commas, parentheses, fresh paragraphs are not counted or signalled, but decimal points, commas, bars of division &c. used with figures are each counted as a figure and signalled.

RULE XXVIII.—When numbers are expressed in figures, all the characters, figures, letters, or signs in each group are added together, the total divided by three, and the quotient, plus one for the remainder, if there be any, gives the number of words the group represents. Signs used to separate groups and letters added to figures to form ordinal numbers are counted each as a figure or letter; groups of letters not forming words (letter cipher) cannot be transmitted.

RULE XXIX.—All that the Sender writes in his message to be transmitted is to be included in the cost, but the address of a message, as defined in Rule XVIII will be transmitted without charge.

The day, hour, and minute (Madras time) of receipt of a message into a Telegraph Office for despatch are in every instance added by the Department and telegraphed free of charge. Senders may, however, date their messages if they think fit, but the Sender's date, if given, will be charged for.

RULE XXX.—A message addressed to several persons, or to the same person, in localities where delivery is to be effected by different offices, is charged for as so many separate messages.

Multiple messages charged as one message.

RULE XXXI.—A message addressed to several persons in one locality, or to the same person at several places of residence in one locality, with or without transmission by post, is charged for as a single message, but a copying fee of four annas, independently of postage, if any, is charged for each destination after the first.

REPETITION OF MESSAGES.

Collation of message.

RULE XXXII.—The Sender of any message can require that it be repeated. In this case the different stations employed in its transmission collate it as it passes, repeating it to each other integrally.

Charge for collation.

RULE XXXIII.—The charge for repeating is equal to half the charge for the message. A repeated message is indicated by the word "collated," which, to ensure the greatest accuracy, is telegraphed (free) both in the official instructions and as the first word of the text of the message.

ADVICE OF DELIVERY.

Advice of delivery.

RULE XXXIV.—Any Sender can require that a notice of the time at which his message is delivered be transmitted to him by telegraph. This advice of delivery may be addressed to him at any Station he may name.

Case of non-delivery.

RULE XXXV.—If the message cannot be delivered, the return-telegram indicates the circumstances which prevented delivery, and, if possible, gives the information necessary to enable the Sender to cause his message to reach its destination.

Priority of return-message.

The return-message has priority in transmission over ordinary messages.

Charge for advice of delivery.

RULE XXXVI.—The charge for an advice of delivery or non-delivery is one rupee.

PREPAYMENT OF REPLY.*

RULE XXXVII.—The Sender of a message can prepay a reply depositing for this purpose a sum not less than 8 annas and not more than two rupees and not including any fraction of an anna; but the message to which a reply is prepaid must not be addressed to more than one person. On depositing the corresponding sum the sender can add free the words "Reply paid" or "Answer paid" and the amount to which he wishes the reply to be limited. The Terminal station pays to the Receiver, in Telegraph or Postage Stamps, or in money the amount prepaid, leaving it to him to send his answer how, and when, and to what address he pleases, or not to send one at all. The reply, if sent, is considered in every respect as a fresh message.

* The sender of a State message addressed to a Government Official may not prepay a reply. And in the case of a State message addressed to other than a Government official, any sum deposited by the sender under this rule must be intended for no other purpose than to cover the cost of a return telegram.

When a message to which a reply is prepaid is addressed to a station where there is no Telegraph office, the amount is forwarded to a destination from the nearest Government Telegraph Office, in postage stamps in an insured cover: the sender must accordingly prepay the postal insurance fee two annas.

Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a "Reply-paid" message, the Terminal Station sends a Service telegram to that effect to the Sender, and the amount deposited will be refunded on application being made to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta.

It should be distinctly understood that it is not compulsory on the addressee to send a reply. The duty of the Terminal Station consists simply in paying to him, in Stamps, or in money the amount prepaid, leaving him at liberty to do what he pleases with it.

DELIVERY.

Free delivery
radius.

RULE XXXVIII.—Local messages will be delivered free of charge within one mile and other messages within five miles of a Telegraph Station. Beyond this distance, messages will be sent by post without charge or by such other means as the Sender may arrange and pay for. Should the addressee of a message (other than a 'local' message) have left the station to which it is addressed, it will, if returned unopened with definite instructions as to the new address be re-transmitted without extra charge. If the sender requests it, messages will be delivered open. In this case the words 'Deliver open' must be included free in the body of the message. The Telegraph Department deliver 'deferred' messages through the Post Office of the place of destination.

Rules for registration of abbreviated addresses.

The messenger who delivers a message may be entrusted with the reply, provided he be not detained for this purpose more than five minutes; the fact of the reply having been given to the messenger, and the amount paid to him, should be mentioned on the receipt given for the original message.

RULE XXXIX.—Any Firm or Individual expecting to receive Inland or Foreign messages can register an abbreviated address at the Government Telegraph Office from which such messages have to be delivered.

No abbreviated address can be accepted which has already been registered locally by another Firm or Individual.

The fee for registration of each abbreviated address is Rs. 10 per annum, payable in advance on the 1st January in each year, or Rs. 50 for all time, with a fine of Rs. 5 for every change of address. Abbreviated addresses are considered confidential.

The Department accepts no responsibility in respect of the delivery of any telegram having an abbreviated address, if such address has not been registered.

CLEAR LINE MESSAGES.

RULE XL.—On emergent occasions of great importance, the public functionaries named below have the power to "clear the line," that is, to suspend the receipt and despatch of all messages until the one for which the line is "cleared" is passed on:—

- (1.)—The Governor-General of India.
- (2.)—The Governors of Madras and Bombay.
- (3.)—Commanders-in-Chief, India, Madras, and Bombay.
- (4.)—Lieutenant-Governors of Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and the Punjab.
- (5.)—Secretaries to the Government of India.
- (6.)—Secretaries to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and Punjab.
- (7.)—Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces, British Burma, and Assam.

- (8.)—Agents to the Governor-General, Rajpootana, Central India, & Beluchistan.
 (9.)—Commissioners of Sindh and Peshawur.
 (10.)—The Residents at Hyderabad (Deccan) and Mysore.
 (11.)—Director General of Telegraphs in India.
 (12.)—The Maharajah of Patiala from the Patiala Office only.

The messages so sent are, however, to be paid for, in cash or in stamps, as other State messages.

REFUNDS.

No refund given for State messages or for 'local' or 'deferred' private messages or for errors in uncollated, 'ordinary' or 'urgent' private messages.

Conditions of refund in the case of non-delivery or delay of private messages.

RULE XLI.—No refund will under any circumstances be made for a "State message of any class or for a 'local' or 'deferred' " private message; and no refund will be made for an 'ordinary' or 'urgent' private message delivered wholly or partially in an unintelligible state, unless the extra charge for repetition has been paid by the sender.

RULE XLII.—If 'an ordinary' or 'urgent' private message be not delivered, or be subjected to serious delay through the fault of the Telegraph Department, the whole charge made for it will be returned to the Sender.

RULE XLIII.—Applications for refunds, as also all complaints respecting messages, should be addressed to the TELEGRAPH CHECK OFFICE, CALCUTTA. Such claims for refund should be made, under penalty of rejection, within two months from the date of the message; but this period is extended to six months in the case of a repeated message, or of a message for which a Reply or an Advice of Delivery has been prepaid. (When an overcharge has been made on an inland message through the neglect of the Telegraph employees, and when there exists no doubt whatever as to the justice of the claim, the amount overcharged will be repaid at once by the Telegraph Master.)

CANCELLATION OF MESSAGES.

Refund not admissible when a message is cancelled at the Sender's request.

RULE XLIV.—If the Sender of an inland message wishes to cancel it before transmission has commenced, he can do so, but the charges upon it will not be returned when once the stamps are obliterated. If the message is in course of transmission, or has already been despatched, it can only be cancelled by a paid message from the Sender to the Telegraph Master of the Terminal Station. If in addition the Sender wishes to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon, he must deposit the cost of the return telegram.

OBLIGATION OF SECRECY.

RULE XLV.—To secure secrecy as much as possible, all persons (including officers of the Department) not actually on duty, are strictly prohibited from entering the Signal-room. Breach of this regulation renders an offender liable to a fine of Rs. 500 under Act I of 1876.

Penalties for divulging the contents of a message.

RULE XLVI.—Violation of secrecy on the part of any person in the Department will be punished by dismissal from office, forfeiture of arrears of pay, and a declaration in the official Gazette of the incapacity of the delinquent to serve the Government in any capacity. He will also be liable to the further punishment of fine, or to imprisonment (with or without labor) not exceeding three years, or to both.

It is a violation of secrecy to mention the fact that a message has been received or despatched by any particular person or firm.

COPIES OF MESSAGES.

Certified copies of messages obtainable by Sender and Receiver.

RULE XLVII.—The Sender and Receiver have a right to be furnished with certified true copies of any message sent or received by them; a fixed charge of four annas is made for every copy furnished. As no Telegraph office keeps copies of messages longer than three days, applications for copies required after that time has elapsed should be made to the TELEGRAPH CHECK OFFICE, CALCUTTA.

Applications for copies must be made within six months of the date of the message. At the expiration of that period all message drafts are destroyed.

One anna must be enclosed for postage of the reply—failing which, it will be sent "bearing."

Application may be made, as above by an interested party for the preservation of specified telegrams exchanged between other persons on the ground of pending or contemplated Judicial proceedings. Such telegrams will be preserved for a further period of six months at the expiration of which they will, in default of a renewed application, be destroyed.

Should the particulars furnished be insufficient to enable the Check Office to trace the telegrams at once, the estimated cost of the required search must be deposited by the applicant. It must be understood that the duty of the Telegraph Department in the matter is confined to making the search and preserving the telegrams if found. No information as to the result of the search will be furnished, and any telegrams answering the description given which may be found will only be produced on the order of a competent Court of law or other competent authority.

PRESS MESSAGES.

RULE XLVIII.—Bona fide Press messages, i. e., messages in the ordinary English language addressed to, and intended for publication in, a newspaper, can be despatched at the following rates:—

Urgent.—Two rupees for the first 32 words and four annas for every additional four words.

Ordinary.—One rupee for the first 32 words and two annas for every additional four words.

Deferred.—Eight annas for the first 32 words and one anna for every additional four words.

$30\frac{1}{2}$ Chuckrams weigh 1 Queen's Rupee; consequently 1 Chuckram weighs very nearly 6 grains. The silver of the Chuckram is 94.53125 per cent. fine, and therefore 2.86459, or nearly 3 per cent. better than that of the Queen's Rupee, which is only 91.75 per cent. fine. The established rate of exchange, viz. $28\frac{1}{2}$ Chuckrams per Queen's Rupee, is therefore nearly 4 per cent. less than a fair equivalent.
